Baker Refuses to Give Records to Committee

By WILBUR MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Baker, former secretary of the Senate Democratic majority, refused today to turn over subpoenaed documents to senators investigating an alleged political payoff from a government contract. He said they "might tend to incriminate me."

Insurance man Don B. Reynolds in sworn testimony Tuesday pictures himself as the "bag man" for Baker and politician Matthew H. McCloskey in a deal to secretly funnel money from a stadium construction contract here into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

The Senate Rules Committee had served Baker with a subpoena commanding him to bring to its hearing any documents which would shed light on the allegations.

In a strained voice, Baker testified that he had complied by bringing the documents to the hearing, but that he must "respectfully refuse" to surrender them.

"I specifically invoke this (constitutional) right against self-incrimination," Baker said, and invited the committee, if it has any evidence of unlawful actions on his part, to turn it over to a grand jury "sitting three blocks away."

On demand from Baker's attorney, the lights for television were turned out before questions were put to Baker.

Attorney Edward Bennett Williams argued that the lights served as a distraction and a harassment of Baker.

Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democrats, gave only his name and address before the request for a television blackout produced an argument among committee members.

The television lights were turned off during testimony of the day's first witness — William M. McLeod Jr., who denied any part in or knowledge of a political payoff from the stadium construction.

Nazarenes to Hear Special Speaker

The Rev. Carl Prentice, Sr., of Bethany, Oklahoma, will be the special speaker at the Hope Church of the Nazarene here at 7:30 p.m. He is the father of the local pastor, the Rev. George Prentice.

The Rev. and Mrs. Carl Prentice were former pastors of the First Church of the Nazarene in El Dorado for over fourteen years. They also pastored the Churches in Bentonville and in West Helena. For the past three years they have been evangelists. They will leave Thursday, to start a revival in Ruston, La. The public is invited to attend.

C of C Board in Final Meet of Year

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will hold their final meeting of 1964 year Thursday evening at 7:30 in the new quarters on West Third St. President Bill Gunter said the following new members have been elected to the Board for the next three years: E. P. Young, Jr., Dr. Lester Silzes, Harold Hendrix, Hulien White and Lester Godwin Sr.

"Although these men will not officially become members of the Board until January 1, 1965, they have been invited to attend the meeting for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming year," said Mr. Gunter. Mr. Gunter further stated that this meeting, as well as any is open to all members of the Chamber of Commerce and that they are welcome to attend at any time.

Several other items of business will be discussed and acted on, including some special committee reports.

Woman to Be a Bank Examiner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miss Norma Louise Ballou, 22, a native of Little Rock, will be appointed today the first woman bank examiner in the 31-year history of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

She will work out of the regional office at Dallas.

The FDIC has 958 examiners, with 903 of them assigned to regional offices.

Miss Ballou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ballou, received her bachelor of arts degree in business administration and accounting at Ouachita College at Arkadelphia last June.

Taylor to Take New War Plan to Viet Nam

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, armed with fresh orders from President Johnson, will fly back to South Viet Nam shortly to work out new plans for intensifying the war against Communist guerrillas.

Presumably, prospective new military actions could include air strikes against the Communist supply lines that run from North to South Viet Nam through the mountainous jungles of Laos.

A White House statement reported on the conference Johnson held Tuesday with Taylor and other top policy advisers withheld details on prospective actions.

Significantly, however, the statement emphasized Red use of the supply lines through Laos and said there is evidence of increasing support to the Viet Cong rebels from Communist North Viet Nam. The statement also said that Taylor would "consult urgently" with the South Viet Nam government on what should be done to improve the war effort.

Against the background of mounting expectation of decisions on whether the war should be broadened beyond the boundaries of South Viet Nam, the White House statement summarized military, political and economic conditions in the country and said:

"The meeting reviewed the accumulating evidence of continuing and increased North Vietnamese support of the Viet Cong and of North Vietnamese forces in, and passing through, the territory of Laos in violation of the Geneva accords of 1954."

"The President instructed Ambassador Taylor to consult urgently with the South Vietnamese government as to measures that should be taken to improve the situation in all its aspects."

"The President reaffirmed the basic U.S. policy of providing all possible and useful assistance to the South Vietnamese people and government in their struggle to defeat the externally supported insurgency and aggression being conducted against them."

Hoover Tells Negro Leader FBI Has Infiltrated Klan and Other Racist Groups

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)

J. Edgar Hoover told Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Tuesday that the FBI has infiltrated the Ku Klux Klan and other racist groups much as it did the Communist party, it was learned after the two had chatted in the FBI director's office.

And, King told reporters after the 1 1/2-hour session, Hoover indicated arrests will be made in the next few weeks in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

King requested the meeting and Hoover agreed to it. There was no comment from the FBI director afterward, but King, a leader in the Negroes' drive for equal opportunities and rights, told newsmen: "I might say the discussion was quite amicable."

Last month, Hoover departed from his general practice of not granting interviews and told a group of women reporters King was "the most notorious liar in this country."

King, a minister and a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, had claimed FBI agents in Georgia, because they were Southerners, did not investigate complaints from Negroes.

Later, the Negro leader said Hoover "has apparently faltered under the awesome burden, complexities and responsibilities of his office."

Hoover's disclosure of FBI infiltration into racist organizations is the first to this effect. His comment that arrests in the Philadelphia slayings will be made in the next few days follows an FBI announcement of last week that "we know who is responsible."

Last Aug. 4, FBI agents found the bodies of the three rights workers — Michael H. Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, and James E. Chaney, 21 — in a recently built earth dam five miles southwest of the Mississippi city. They had disappeared June 21.

Last week an FBI spokesman said "it has not yet been possible to obtain evidence or confessions that would insure successful prosecution."

Tuesday spokesmen for the FBI refused to pinpoint the day the arrests Hoover spoke of would be made.

Otherwise, it was learned that in the talk between Hoover and King:

—King expressed appreciation to Hoover for what the FBI has accomplished in the South and said it had overcome many obstacles.

—King said the very presence of the FBI in the South helps deter further civil rights violations and that he is urging his followers to work closely with the FBI.

The Department Store Santa Claus Hears Some Tiring Remarks Over, Over Again

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a department store Santa Claus gets tired of hearing:

"Last year I told you I wanted a bike and ya brought me a pair of roller skates, ya bum. This year I want ya to get it straight. Bring me a bike."

"Let me down! Let me down! I want my mama!"

"We like you to show enthusiasm, Roscoe, but don't you think you're overdoing it a bit? Just kiss the children — and let the mothers alone."

"Hey, fellow, I have to play Santa Claus for my kids on Christmas Eve. How about letting me in on a few secrets of the trade?"

"Of course, they ain't real whisksers. When he takes you on his lap, give them a big pull — and I betcha they'll come right off in your hands."

"No, Johnny. You musn't punch Santa in the stomach. He's a nice man."

"Would you mind keeping an eye on my little boy while I go over to the lingerie department. Santa? I won't be gone more than a few moments."

Rusk, Gromyko Meet in Try to Settle UN Dues

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a second meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today in an effort to win Soviet agreement to help pay for peace-keeping operations of the United Nations.

A last-minute accord Tuesday postponing a showdown at the General Assembly opened the way for basic financial negotiations starting at a luncheon meeting of Gromyko and Rusk at the headquarters of the Soviet U.N. mission.

U.S. sources expected other East-West issues would come up also, including disarmament, trade and a U.S.-Soviet consular agreement.

The U.N. money issue had top priority. At their first meeting Monday, Rusk and Gromyko skirmished over procedure in what was termed an inconclusive session.

U.S. diplomats contended the United States gained more than it lost in Tuesday's compromise under which the General Assembly is going ahead with routine debate. Voting on important matters was put off to allow time for the backstage financial talks.

A tissue is the Soviet Union's refusal to pay her U.N. assessments for the Congo and Middle East peace-keeping operations, which she says were illegal, and application of the U.N. Charter's Article 19. Article 19 says members falling two years behind in their dues — and that now includes the U.S.S.R. — shall lose their General Assembly vote.

The United States, the biggest financial contributor to the United Nations and its peace-keeping operations, says both the U.N.'s finances and its overall functioning will be gravely weakened if members can flout the charter provision at will.

The U.S. aim now is to get the Soviets to agree on a method for financing future peace-keeping operations. Washington also has reservations about the present setup in which the small-nation majority in the 115-member General Assembly can outvote the big nations footing most of the bill. It hopes to attract the Soviets with a deal giving the larger powers a bigger voice in the assembly's financial decisions.

New Road Is Dedicated by Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

Gov. Orval E. Faubus opened a new road Tuesday he said he could not envisage becoming obsolete "in the lifetime of anyone here today."

The new Little Rock to Pine Bluff and Sheridan route was dedicated in a special ceremony attended by about 200 persons.

Faubus used the occasion to plug his rural road program, saying the state has two problems now that the interstate highway system is nearing completion.

These, Faubus said, are the need to extend paved roads into rural areas and the problem of providing for the needs of rapidly growing cities.

Rural road improvements was a major plank in the governor's re-election platform this year. Cities have long complained they are unable to finance new streets and repairs to old ones.

Faubus said many of the roads built in the past have become obsolete. The new section opened Tuesday replaces such a highway, the narrow, twisting stretch from Little Rock southward to Pine Bluff.

Four lanes of the new road extend south from Little Rock 10.3 miles to a "Y." From there two lanes extend 6.1 miles further toward Pine Bluff and two stretch 5.2 miles toward Sheridan.

The Pine Bluff section becomes U.S. 365 and the Sheridan part U.S. 367.

Teachers of Spanish Organize

A chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese was organized recently at Texarkana College by a group of teachers from Northeast Texas and elected were: president, Miss Olivia Crouch, Texarkana College; vice-president, Mrs. W.A. Williams, Hope High School; secretary-treasurer, Miss Roberta Yant, Texarkana, Texas High School.

The group plans to meet once a month at the college to compare ideas and methods of improving their performance through communication. The Spanish Club at the college Los Conquistadores, has invited the Spanish students of the area to join them for a Mexican supper December 7 at the college.

Projects for the year which are being considered by the group include a trip to Mexico and contests for high school students with a scholarship as a prize to be offered by the college Spanish Club.

Pope Receives Big Welcome From Indians

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

BOMBAY, India (AP) — A gigantic, fervent sea of humanity surged around Pope Paul VI as he arrived today, saying "we come as a pilgrim, a pilgrim of peace of joy and love."

After the longest mission ever undertaken by a pontiff, the Pope for 1 1/2 hours, over a distance of 13 miles was encompassed by hundreds of thousands. They pressed against his car and at times seemed almost to spill over it. Police estimated there were 100,000 at the airport and more than one million along the way.

It was an enormous reception, in the view of veteran observers surpassing any in recent Indian history.

All around, covering the fields and hills and running forward like a stampede, the vast landscape of humanity sought to keep abreast of the motorcade.

The pontiff, 67, riding in an open white Lincoln convertible, alternately smiled and looked about in wonderment, waving almost continuously and occasionally pressing a dark hand stretched to him.

Security guards on either side pushed and shouted to hold back the crush that often slowed the car to a crawl.

Pope Paul called his tri-phrase a "journey of peace and love" and of "friendship and brotherliness."

"All men are brothers under the fatherhood of divinity," he said on his arrival.

Nearly 100,000 Indians, many barefoot and wearing the white dhoti garb of their impoverished land, thronged to the airport but were barred from entering to watch the Pope's plane land at the end of his unprecedented 4,000-mile journey to the Orient.

About 6,000, many of them Indian Catholics led by their parish priests, were permitted to enter. A great cheer went up as the Pope's plane touched down in brilliant sunshine.

Minutes before the plane landed, about 2,000 Indians broke police lines and shrugged across the runway to gain a better vantage point from which to see the leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics.

Policemen carrying long bamboo poles pushed the crowds back without using violence. There was no sign at the airport of fanatic Hindu groups that pledged to stage black flag demonstrations against the first Pope to visit Asia.

About 250 persons were arrested — some in raids Tuesday night — as police swept up leaders of groups that protested the Pope's visit — as a "Catholic invasion" of India.

Faubus Considers a Special Session Before January 11

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he is considering calling a special legislative session before the regular session starts Jan. 11, but he would not say what the special session might be about.

The governor confirmed that a special session is under consideration after rumors about it circulated in the Legislative Council.

"I haven't made up my mind, but if I decide to call a special session, the reasons for it will be plainly and clearly stated, in the call," Faubus said.

He then steadfastly refused to answer all questions about the topics that he might include in such a call.

Faubus also refused to discuss a possible date for the session if one is called.

Congressional redistricting, legislative reapportionment, rural road construction and state Police financing are matters which might come before the session.

Faubus has said that he would prefer that the reapportionment be handled in a special session, but he has indicated previously that he was thinking of a session after the regular one.

The Arkansas Democrat said today that the special session may be called to deal with the governor's proposed rural road program. The newspaper quoted an unnamed legislator as saying that the session might be called next week.

The Faubus announcement apparently caught even veteran legislators, who usually know what is going on, by surprise.

Little River County Rep. Marion Crank, speaker of the House, said he didn't know about it even by rumor until he was approached by newsmen.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem said he had heard nothing about a special session. "He (the governor) hasn't talked to any of the representatives about it," Van Dalsem said.

Prairie County Rep. John P. Bethell said he had "heard by the grapevine" about a possible special session on congressional redistricting after the regular session, but he knew nothing about this.

Possibility of Freezing Rain, Snow

The possibility of snow and freezing drizzle in North Arkansas tonight was forecast today by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures will drop throughout the state, the bureau said, and will range from the upper 20s in the north portion to the 40s south.

The forecast revised an earlier prediction of rain and warm temperatures through Thursday. Maximum temperatures of 30 degrees north to around 50 south are predicted for Thursday.

Showers will end Thursday, in the north section, the bureau said, but continue into the night in the south half.

Maximum temperatures in the upper 50s northeast and 60s elsewhere were predicted for today and Thursday, with overnight low readings mostly in the 50s.

Cut Budgets or Hike Taxes, Faubus Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

Gov. Orval E. Faubus told the Arkansas Legislative Council Tuesday that it may be time for another tax increase.

Faubus did not propose such a tax. But his speech harked back to the "great step forward" the state took with the 1957 tax increase.

The governor told the council that state agency budget requests for the next biennium exceed by about $6 million the most optimistic estimates of expected revenues.

Faubus said the state has three choices: —A tax increase. —Slash the budgets until they fit the amount of anticipated revenues. —Or approve the budgets as they are, without a tax increase, and hope more money comes in than

"This war game's getting out of hand! She's shooting live ammunition!"

Who Steals My Name . . .

It was still late afternoon when we arrived at San Francisco. I went to a hotel and checked in. I decided there wasn't any point in trying to work in what was left of the day. I bought a couple of newspapers and a magazine and postoffice by this afternoon. I'll be up early the next morning into my room.
After showering and shaving, I had breakfast sent up. And while I ate breakfast, I permitted myself to think about the case again.
I finished my second cup of coffee and took a taxi to the postoffice building. I went up to the floor occupied by the postal inspection service. There was a girl at the desk out front. I showed her my identification.
"I sent a TWX from Chicago yesterday," I said, "saying that I would be here this morning. Someone should be expecting me."
"Just a minute," she said. She picked up her phone and dialed three numbers. "There's an Inspector Morgan from the New York District here. He wants to know whom to see." She listened for a minute and hung up. "Go through that door and down to the door that has the name of Lawrence Porter on it. I'm not sure whether it's the fifth or sixth."

I thanked her and followed the instruction. I opened the door with Porter's name on it and stepped in. It was another office just like the ones in New York and Chicago. The desk was piled high with papers. The man behind it was tall and slim, probably in his early forties, with the same harassed expression we all have.
"I'm Inspector Blake Morgan from New York," I said. "I understand you're expecting me."
"Hi," he said. "I'm Larry Porter." He put out his hand. I shook hands with him. I took a seat and finally felt pretty good.
"When did you get in, Blake?"
"Late yesterday afternoon but I decided I wouldn't bother you until this morning. I see you bout like every other office."
"It creeps up," he admitted. "You're here on the Emery case, right?"
"How did you know? I didn't mention the case in my TWX."
He smiled. "Simple. Inspector Dundy in Chicago sent through a file, including lab reports. It arrived air mail special this morning. Looks like you've got a busy little man on your hands."
"Busy and fast," I said.
He leaned back in his chair. "They all are until we catch them. What can I do to help?"
"A couple of things. If I'm right, Emery will try to make a killing in the next week or less. Now, I doubt if there are many government checks coming through the mails during that period, are there?"
"No. Most of them came through last week."
"I think that there won't be a rash of thefts from mailboxes. That leaves two areas, according to his method of operation so far. He might try to hit postoffices to get money orders."

Baker to the witness stand today to question him about an alleged $25,000 political payoff in which he has been cited as the man who gave the orders.
There was no advance indication as to whether Baker would testify. In an earlier Senate probe of his activities, he invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer questions.
Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man, opened the Senate Rules Committee's hearings Tuesday by swearing he was the "bag man" in the alleged kick-back deal and Baker was the one who "gave me all my orders."
For some four hours Reynolds detailed the arrangements he said were made between Baker and Democratic politician Matthew H. McCloskey to funnel $25,000 from a government contract for construction of the District of Columbia Stadium into the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.
Baker was scheduled to be called today following William N. McLeod, former clerk of the House District Committee. McCloskey's role in getting congressional approval for a bill calling for construction of the stadium.
Reynolds testified that he gave McCloskey $1,500 and told him, "It's time I shared with you."

Tuesday's public hearing was frequently marked by verbal wrangling between Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb.; Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, and Lennox P. McClelland, special committee counsel.
At one point Curtis claimed McClelland was trying to "discredit" and "impeach" Reynolds' testimony and "sandbag" Sen. John J. Williams, R-Dele., who triggered the second round of the Baker probe with a Senate speech last September revealing what Williams called a "political payoff."
Reynolds testified he added $35,000 to the fee for acting as broker through whom the McCloskey firm's performance bond in constructing the stadium was written.
He said the understanding was that $25,000 of it would go to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund. His fee for services as the "bag man" would be $10,000.
The arrangement was suggested by McCloskey and Baker, Reynolds said, and was discussed in his presence.
McCloskey, former chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic National Committee and former ambassador to Ireland, has denied any knowledge of such a payoff or kickback.
Baker resigned his $19,600-a-year post as secretary to the Senate's Democrats more than a year ago. His activities are being investigated by a grand jury. After its initial investigation of his outside business activities while a Senate employee, the Rules Committee found Baker was "guilty of many gross improprieties."

"I think the other area of operation will be the theft of corporation checkbooks and then forging the signatures and cashing them. That's not really our area, but I'd like to keep a check on it. Whom should I see in the police department?"
"Lieutenant Pritchard in the Detective Division. He's always been co-operative with us."
"I hope he's more co-operative than the one in Chicago," I said. "He scared Emery out of the city."
"I think you'll like Pritchard. What else?"
"There's another thing we might check. There are two men here in the city who were in Sing Sing with Emery and they were friends. Freddie Blaine and John 'Tip' Wright. He probably will use one or both of them in what he does. He'll use them and pay them as little as possible. We might check them out to see if you have anything."
"We'll go to the I.D. room," he said. He got up and I followed him out of the office and down to a room that was full of files.

Taylor to Take

Taylor returned to Washington from Saigon a week ago for consultations, and in an interview with Life magazine in advance of his return said air strikes against the Red supply lines in Laos could contribute to the eventual defeat of the Viet Cong guerrillas. He also said there could be advantages in attacking bases in North Viet Nam that are sources of infiltrating supplies and trained men.
The White House statement, while spotlighting the passage of men and supplies through Laos, made no reference to the bases in North Viet Nam. This was generally taken as an indication that if the military operations of the U.S.-supported South Vietnamese are now to be broadened the first phase at least would be concerned with trying to cut the flow of supplies and reinforcements rather than bombing the bases.
White House press secretary George Reedy said that Taylor would remain in Washington for two or three days and would have another meeting with the President before returning to his post. His consultations later Tuesday and today were primarily with officials of the State and Defense departments and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Delayed UN Clash Victory for U. Thant

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The launching of the twice-delayed U.N. General Assembly without a head-on clash between the United States and the Soviet Union was seen today as a victory for Secretary-General Thant.
Delegates said Thant's patience and persistence brought the big powers together Tuesday for one more try at getting the assembly under way without a blowup over the issue of the Soviet Union's unpaid peace-keeping dues and its assembly vote.
As diplomats sat in the General Assembly hall waiting for the 19th session to begin, representatives of the four big powers met in Thant's office and agreed to limit the opening weeks to general policy debate and noncontroversial issues.
During that time a 21-nation committee will try to reach some solution of the issue raised by Soviet refusal to pay any Congo or Middle East peace-keeping dues and the U.S. contention that it should lose its assembly vote as a financial delinquent.

Today's assembly agenda appeared noncontroversial enough with a parade of speakers slated to welcome Malawi, Malta and Zambia, which were admitted Tuesday to bring the U.N. membership to 115.
Thant began overtures several months ago in search of a formula that would get the Soviet Union off the financial hook without the United States challenging her right to vote. The Russians threatened to quit the United Nations if they lost their vote.
The secretary-general proposed last week that the assembly stick to non-voting issues until the Christmas recess, then prolong the recess until February.

Brazil Will Return Peron to Madrid

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Ex-dictator Juan D. Peron arrived in Rio de Janeiro today on the first stage of his return to Argentina, but the Brazilian government refused to let him continue his journey.

"He will not go on" to Montevideo, said Joao Lamprea Gracie, chief of protocol for the Brazilian Foreign Ministry who was at the airport to meet the Iberia airliner that brought the former dictator from Madrid.
Lamprea said Peron would be returned to Madrid.
Peron had planned to fly to Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital, and transfer there to a plane for Asuncion, Paraguay. He was to take up residence in Paraguay until he felt the time ripe for him to return to Argentina.
Lamprea said Peron is persona non grata in Brazil and as such was not permitted to touch Brazilian territory. Since he had violated this, Lamprea said, he would be returned to his point of origin.
Spanish officials had indicated earlier, however, that Peron might not be allowed to return to Spain if his trip failed. They said this would be decided by the Spanish government in any in hopes some solution could be reached.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at first said the Soviet Union categorically opposed any indefinite postponement of important business before the assembly. Thant persevered, however, and Gromyko came around Tuesday.
The solution was far from permanent, but it heartened delegates who had feared a collision on finances would result in a Soviet walkout or that the United States might decide to cut its heavy financial support for the United Nations.

Non-Violent Group Moving to Little Rock

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee said Monday it would move its state headquarters to Little Rock to complement its projects on a statewide basis.

James Jones, SNCC project director for Arkansas, said the agreement with the Argentine government.
"But this (Peron's return to Spain) would be very difficult," one official said, "because he has openly broke the conditions under which he came to Spain."
A major condition of Peron's asylum in Spain was that he would not engage publicly in politics.
In Buenos Aires, Argentina's defense minister said the Argentine armed forces would bar any attempt to restore Peron — driven from his homeland in 1955 — to power.
President Arturo Illia was awakened during the night for an urgent meeting with Defense Minister Leopoldo Suarez, Interior Minister Juan Palmero and top army and navy officers.
"The armed forces," said Suarez, "without doubt are going to act if necessary to support the government in defense of the peace of our country."
Inspector General Roberto G. Schuller of the federal police placed infantry, mounted police and squad cars on street patrol in Buenos Aires.
Peron and his lieutenants presumably have their eyes on the election March 14 for half the Congress and provincial governors. Peron's followers, although divided, can muster an estimated 20-25 per cent of the vote.
Peron, 69, an army general, swept to power in 1946 and was re-elected in 1952. He was overthrown in a bloody military revolt on Sept. 16, 1955.

Groundbreaking for Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will wield the gold-plated spade that broke ground for the Jefferson and Lincoln memorials when he breaks ground Wednesday for Washington's John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., will represent the family of the late president. Portions of Kennedy's speeches and his favorite passage from Shakespeare will be read by actors Jason Robards Jr. and Sir John Gielgud.

Mills Sees Excise Tax Reduction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills told Arkansas grocers Monday night he expects an excise tax reduction before the next Congress adjourns.
He told the Associated Grocers of Arkansas the cut could come as early as June 30. The big factor in any cut, Mill said, is the economic climate of the country in the coming months.

move from Pine Bluff will be made about Jan. 1.

"When you have a project in a particular area, you find yourself getting involved with the local projects and you let things slip in other places," Jones said. "In Little Rock there is no project and we could afford to give attention to other areas."

Jones, a Negro, said Arlene Wilgorn, a white woman, who is Arkansas project secretary for the civil rights group, would operate the Little Rock office.

Rev. Ben Crainage, former chairman of the Pine Bluff Movement, will resign his job with an insurance company to become a field secretary in charge of SNCC's Pine Bluff office, which will be retained.

SNCC has also has a project office at Helena, and others are scheduled to be opened in Arkansas as personnel become available.

Education Budget Backed by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus gave his approval Monday to a state Education Department budget which would give an average $5,000 annual raise to the state's teachers.

Faubus indicated he didn't want to give the raises on a flat per teacher basis, but would not say how the money would be distributed.

He goes before the Legislative Council today with an estimate of how much more revenue the state can expect in the coming biennium and his suggestions for spending it.

The council will consider the Education Department's budget request later today, as well as budget requests from the gov-

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Acting: Head 'em off at der cross-roads."

"Thees town eesn't beeg enough for both of us, Ludwig." This is the kind of dialogue that may be emerging from European films as Continental movie makers continue exploiting their discovery of the Western. Once considered Hollywood's exclusive property, it has been taken over by producers from Tokyo to Prague.

Australian-born Ron Randall has returned from Europe with a report on the ersatz horse operas. He should know. He was in one — a Viennese production filmed in Yugoslavia and Berlin.

"It's true," he told a disbelieving reporter. "The film was called 'Hot Like the Wind' and I Randall was brought to Hollywood in the east. The rest were German and Swiss."

"It was made for an Austrian company called Stadthalde, and we shot the exteriors in two places in Yugoslavia. One was rance and the other was a Western street. The company built it with an Italian firm which was going to make a couple of Westerns after we finished."

"Later a German company came in on the production, so we shot the interiors in Berlin, mostly of the ranch house. Our director was Rolf Olsen, a Viennese who had also shot a Western in the Canary Islands."

"Westerns are now being made in Italy, Spain, Yugoslavia, Sweden, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, and, I understand, in Russia. The Europeans are actually paying more attention to the Western than Hollywood, where they seldom make the big Westerns any more."

What's more, he believes the Europeans are doing a good job of it.

"They seem to be going back to the original sources for their authenticity," Ron remarked.

"Here in Hollywood, the same old directors seem to do the same old props. Sure, maybe the Colt 45s over there say 'Made in Italy' on them, but they're patterned after the real article, not a modern version, as in Hollywood."

"And the faces seem more authentic. Here they use the fresh-faced California boys who don't fit in the Old West. In Europe they use established actors who have character in their faces. As for the language, don't forget there were plenty of accents in the Old West. A large percentage of the pioneers were immigrants."

Randall was brought to Hollywood 20 years ago after portraying Australian hero Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith in a film. He was under contract to Columbia and has appeared in a number of Westerns, both for theaters and television.

Town Gets Truck to Go With Hats

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Westover, Tenn., a town of 400, had 500 feet of hose and new fire hats but now it has a fire truck to go with them.

The town had been seeking a truck since it formed a volunteer fire department some time ago.

Paragould Mayor J. T. (Chigger) Brown read a newspaper story about Westover's search and offered the city a 1945 model fire truck for $2,000.

Westover firemen came, saw and bought. They were to take the truck home today.

ernor's office, the comptroller's office, the Library Commission and the State Hospital.

Honors for Farm Family of Yr.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Burke and daughters, Cosette and Penny, of the DeAnn Community, were selected earlier in the year to represent Hempstead County in the Annual Farm Family of the Year Contest. This contest is sponsored each year by The Arkansas Press Association, The Arkansas Power and Light Company and State and Federal Agricultural Agencies.

Selection of the Burke family was made by a local committee composed of representatives from the County Agricultural Extension Office, the Farmers Home Administration, The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, the Soil Conservation Service, The Hempstead County Farm Bureau,

The Hempstead County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs, The Local Banks and the Chamber of Commerce.

The Burke family will be guests at a local Civic Club Luncheon within the next few days at which time they will receive a plaque provided by The Hope Star honoring them as the Farm Family of 1964. On December 11 they will be guests of the State organization at a dinner in Little Rock at which time the Arkansas Farm Family of the Year will be named.

Mr. Burke's farming operations consist of soy beans, watermelons, cattle, hay and pasture crops on 1,220 acres in the central and east central part of the county.

"DEAR ABBY"

SOMETHIN'S GOTTA GIVE!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My problem is a very dear friend whom I've had for many years. She recently lost her husband and lives alone with her small dog. When my husband is on the road, I invite her to spend the night with me. We have a one-bedroom apartment with a large double bed. This friend lets her dog sleep with her at home, so naturally when she's here she does the same. I fixed up a "bed" for the dog on the floor, but he wouldn't stay there. My bed has begun to take on a doggy smell and my husband is complaining. My friend is very sensitive so I have to be careful not to say anything that might hurt her feelings. What can I do? I wouldn't give up her friendship for the world.

TRUE FRIEND

Dear Friend: If your friend enjoys sleeping with her dog, that's HER business. And if you don't mind sleeping with her AND her dog, that's your business. But you owe your husband more than you owe your friend, and if you don't know it, you belong in the doghouse. I admire your loyalty, but your husband's complaint is legitimate so tell your friend she can't have her dog in YOUR bed, or you'll "lose" YOUR husband.

Dear Abby: Is there anything wrong with a girl going with a man who is LEGALLY separated from his wife? I am almost 19 and my parents have told me that they do not want me to go out with this perfectly wonderful man (he is 27) because, as far as they are concerned, he is still MARRIED and will be until he is DIVORCED. They say I will hurt my reputation if I am seen with him. Abby, he is working on getting a divorce, and he says that he is sure he can get one eventually, so I don't see WHY I shouldn't date him in the meantime. I would like your opinion.

TROUBLE AT HOME
Dear Trouble: If you have marriage in mind, you could wait a long time before this man's divorce comes through. And it may never happen. Your parents are thinking of your welfare and future happiness. I agree with them.

Dear Abby: I am 21 and am engaged to a young man who is away in the service. I work and keep myself busy and would never think of going out on him, but I get many chances. My fiancé could not afford to buy me an engagement ring, but that didn't matter. We love each other and have plans to marry as soon as he gets back. My problem is trying to convince other men that I am engaged. They say that since I have no ring I am NOT engaged, and if I don't want to go out with them why don't I just say so? Does a girl need an engagement ring to be officially engaged? How can I convince these persistent men?

ENGAGED BUT RINGLESS
Dear Ringless: Ring or no ring, if you and your young man have agreed to marry, you are indeed officially engaged. It's not necessary to convince anyone that you are engaged. Just convince them that you aren't interested in dating them.

Confidential To "C" at Hall High: A good friend of mine, said, "A team is where a boy can prove his courage on his own. A gang is where a coward goes to hide." The friend is an authority on teams. He is Mickey Mantle.

Fishermen Pit Shark on Shark
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Board of Conservation is pitting shark against shark in an effort to steer them away from commercial fishing nets in the Florida keys.

Sharks are caught with heavy baited hooks and a flat board is attached to the line. The board slows the wounded shark and tires him. Other sharks, smelling blood, attack their weakened comrade.

Commercial fishermen on both the Atlantic and Gulf sides of the keys have reported uncommonly big schools of sharks tearing into their nets in search of food.

19 Million Canadians Are Divided

EDITOR'S NOTE — What is Canada? That is a question troubling the northern neighbor of the United States. In the search for an answer, Canadians are going through new soul-searching. The following first of five stories sets out the various crises which Canada is experiencing.

By MAX HARRELSON

OTTAWA (AP) — When you journey across Canada today you find a country engrossed in self-examination. Its 19 million people are divided and disturbed over the future.

You find bitterness, name-calling, threats and sometimes violence. There are debates, seminars, editorials, floods of letters to newspapers and private discussions everywhere.

What is Canada? they ask. What does French-Canada want? Should Canada revise its constitution to give the provinces more authority? Should the traditional ties with the British crown be loosened, or broken?

Some of these problems are new. Others have worried Canadians, irritated them, and perplexed them over the years.

One, obviously, is Canada's proximity to the United States — a giant ten times as big in population, closely tied to Canada as an ally, deeply involved in the ownership of the country's industry and exporting U.S. culture in massive quantities to compete with Canada's own brand.

Canadians have a fierce national pride and they are trying hard to create a distinctive national image. Many have genuine fears that both their independence and their national personality may be snuffed out by what is intended as a friendly hug.

There are others who look across the border with envy at the higher wages paid by U.S. industry and at the lower cost of luxury items, such as automobiles, refrigerators and television sets.

A major complaint heard these days is that the Americans don't understand Canada and that they take Canada for granted.

Generally, however, Canadian-American relations have never been better. There has been a substantial improvement in the climate since the bitter anti-American attacks launched by former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker in the 1962 political campaign.

Within Canada there are grave political divisions, caused by the bicultural nature of the country. As one analyst said, French-Canada has finally emerged into the 20th century and is demanding a new and enlarged role in government.

The separatist movement in Quebec, while not extensive, has resulted in an English backlash in some parts of Canada. This has been reflected to some extent in the parliamentary battle over a proposed new maple leaf flag to replace the red ensign of the British Merchant Marine, now used as Canada's flag.

But the flag issue and the question of Canada's relationship to the British crown are not simply disagreements between British and French Canadians.

A writer, Frank Kelley, living in Edmonton, Alberta, wrote recently in Maclean's magazine:

"I think it's time someone asked the Anglophones what it is,

Reds Capture Arsenal From Vietnamese

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong arsenal was richer today by 113 weapons — including 33 machine guns — which Communist guerrillas captured after wiping out a government district headquarters.

North Viet Nam claimed that 12 U.S. planes strated and bombed three villages Tuesday in its half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

The big loss of weapons — enough to arm a reinforced company of guerrillas — was suffered Tuesday at Thien Gao, 100 miles northeast of Saigon. About 300 Communist guerrillas smashed into the town and killed the district chief and 13 of his men. Thirty defenders were wounded, six were missing and two Viet Cong were reported killed.

Responding to a call for help, flare-dropping planes and two companies of ground troops from the coastal town of Phan Thiet headed for Thien Gao.

When the ground troops arrived just before dawn, the Viet Cong had left with their booty.

The North Vietnamese broadcast said Tuesday's bombing was the fourth recent attack on North Vietnamese territory. Radio Hanoi charged that U.S. planes bombed and strafed five villages in the demilitarized zone on Oct. 16 and Oct. 17 and on Nov. 25 "U.S. puppet warships" shelled Co Con Island, off the northern part of the zone.

American military sources in Bangkok said that a search for two U.S. T28 planes which disappeared over Laos Nov. 19 has been called off.

The planes, with four U.S. airmen aboard, were on their way to South Viet Nam from Udorn, an air base in northeast Thailand.

It has not been determined whether they crashed due to mechanical failure or were shot down, the sources said.

Trade Rumors Fly in Major Loop Baseball

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — Baseball's ranking intellects have resolved the momentous question of what constitutes a legal catcher's mitt. While nothing is likely to overshadow the celebration that will surely follow such an event, there is still some curiosity about where Frank Howard and Bo Belinsky, among others, will be playing next season.

Despite expressions of doubt by some club executives, these rumbles persist at the winter baseball meetings:

— Howard, the 6-foot-7 outfielder of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will be traded to Houston for third-baseman Bob Aspromonte and pitcher Ken Johnson, or to Milwaukee for third baseman Ed Mathews, or to Kansas City for outfielder Rocky Colavito.

— Belinsky, the calamity-prone left-hander of the Los Angeles Angels, will be traded for one or more Philadelphia Phillies.

There was also a rumor Tuesday that San Francisco would trade pitchers Bob Shaw and Billy O'Dell to the New York Yankees for catcher-outfielder John Blanchard. But that one was vigorously denied by both clubs.

About the catcher's mitt:

The playing rules committee outlawed the Big Bertha used to catch some knuckleball pitchers. The committee decided the mitt may be no more than 38 inches in circumference.

A conventional mitt is 33 to 34 inches. The Big Berthas, described by committee chairman Charles Segar as "burlesque gloves," are up to 45 inches.

Said Houston General Manager Paul Richards, who designed the first Big Bertha for knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm a few years back:

"I don't think anything should be done about the mitt because it wasn't hurting anybody. Ninety-nine per cent of baseball's appeal stems from its simplicity. But we keep trying to complicate it."

Turning to trade talk, Richards said he doubted Houston would make a deal for Howard. Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi said he and Richards would talk today, but Richards said they already done considerable talking without accomplishing anything.

SOLUNAR TABLES
WHEN TO FISH OR HUNT
By John Alden Knight
and Richard Allen Knight

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Ouachita Wins 1st AIC Cage Round

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ouachita is lucky enough to have the long and the short of it and the Tigers turned both loose in basketball Tuesday night.

David Kossoroff, the short guy, banged in 28 points. Leon Clements, the tall guy, hit 27, and Ouachita went blazing to a 77-66 victory over Southern State at Magnolia.

That gave Ouachita a successful start as the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference race got off the ground.

In other games, State Teachers drilled Arkansas Tech 78-69, Hendrix whipped Arkansas A&M 78-68, Arkansas College edged Henderson 73-71, and Harding crushed Ozarks 93-75.

Larry Tabor dumped in 28 points in the Bears' victory at Conway. State Teachers trailed 32-31 at halftime, but Tabor hit a field goal to give ASTC a 58-56 lead with 8:52 left in the game and Tech was behind thereafter. Larry Lafavers put in 19 points for the Wonder Boys.

The Boll Weevils led Hendrix 58-51 midway through the second half at Conway, but fouls sidelined 6-foot-9 center Tommy Key and 6-foot-4 Danny McCauley.

The Warriors came alive, hitting 10 points while Arkansas A&M found none, and then Joe Murphy pulled a pair of three-point plays to put Hendrix out of reach.

Murphy finished with 26 points and Wes Crawford got 22 for Hendrix. Kelson Busby put in 19 for the Boll Weevils.

Clutch man Freddie Lamb squirmed free under the basket for a layup with one second left in the game to give the Highlanders the triumph over Henderson at Batesville.

The Scots were down by three points with 49 seconds left before Lamb's five-point show gave them the victory.

Ned Boaz put in 24 points to pace Harding's assault of Ozarks at Clarksville. The Bisons marched to a three-point halftime lead, then blew it up to 18 in the second half. Bill Malory got 14 points for the Mountaineers.

Jurgensen Was Key to Redskins Play

NEW YORK (AP) — If Sonny Jurgensen had been healthy all year, the Washington Redskins might have been in the thick of the race in the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

Jurgensen missed the pre-season exhibitions because of an injury and had to take over a new club under the pressure of regular season. It took time to learn the habits of his new receivers after spending years at Philadelphia.

The former Duke star hit it big Sunday with 319 yards against the New York Giants. It was his third 300-plus day of the season. The Redskins have won six of their last eight games.

Jurgensen's latest effort put him in a tie with Bart Starr of Green Bay for the NFL passing lead, figured on a complicated basis of percentage of completions, touchdown passes, percentage of interceptions and average yards gained.

Johnny Morris, the Chicago Bears' brilliant flanker, has set a record for pass receptions with 90 for 1,171 yards and 10 touchdowns. Mike Ditka of the Bears is second with 70 catches.

Emmet Girls Win But Boys Lose

The Fouke Panthers downed Emmet 76 to 55 at Fouke Tuesday night with Eric Teer tossing in 33 points to lead all scorers. Robert Dougan made 23 for Emmet.

In the senior girls game Jane Dougan scored 35 points to lead Emmet to a 38 to 28 victory. Donna Scoggins had 11 for Fouke.

Guernsey Takes 2 From Bodcaw

Guernsey Senior Boys blasted Bodcaw Tuesday night by a 71 to 25 score with every player of the winning team getting into the scoring column.

However, Bodcaw Senior Girls downed the Guernsey Girls 41 to 32, mainly behind the 25 point shooting of Butler.

In the opening game Guernsey Junior Boys defeated Bodcaw 34 to 11 with York tossing in 16 points. Bodcaw's Cole made 11.

Kansas Rallies to Overcome Pork Cagers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Kansas rallied from a 14-point deficit to dump Arkansas 65-60 here Tuesday night as Razorback coach Glen Rose took a look his Southwest Conference entry in action for the first time this season.

It also was the first game for the Jayhawks, favorites in the Big Eight Conference.

Arkansas led 25-11 midway through the first half, but Kansas consistency gave the Jayhawks a 32-30 halftime lead.

Steve Rousseau, a 5-foot-9 guard, got 20 points for the Porkers, mostly on outside shots. Guard Ricky Suggs got 12 points to be second-high scorer for Arkansas.

Del Lewis hit 10 points in the second half to help Kansas maintain a lead and he hit a bucket with four minutes left to give Kansas a 59-50 lead, the biggest for the Jayhawks all night.

Michigan, Top Rated Cagers Posts Victory

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The University of Michigan Wolverines, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press pre-season poll, opened the college basketball season impressively Tuesday night with a 92-70 romp against Ball State.

The fourth-ranked Davidson Wildcats, the fifth-ranked Duke Blue Devils and the ninth-ranked San Francisco Dons, the only other team in the Top Ten to see action, similarly got off on the right foot.

Davidson came from behind to defeat Wake Forest 95-88. Duke whipped Virginia Tech 98-63 and San Francisco downed Oregon State 66-58.

Oregon State's setback marked the coaching debut of Paul Valenti for the Beavers. Johnny Oldham also suffered a defeat in his coaching debut at Western Kentucky. The Hilltoppers were upset by Belmont.

Other new coaches won their first games. Notre Dame beat Lewis 99-87 for Johnny Dee. South Carolina downed Erskine 96-59 for Frank McGuire. Iowa tramped South Dakota 93-70 for Ralph Miller and Marquette drubbed St. Thomas 69-49 for Al McGuire.

Cazell Russell with 33 points led the Michigan attack that crushed Ball State. Big 6-foot-8 Fred Hetzel tossed in 28 points as Davidson wiped out an early 10-point Wake Forest lead to down the Deacons. Hack Tison's 24 points sparked Duke over Virginia Tech and Russ Gurnea led San Francisco over Oregon State with 21 points.

Minnesota, expected to provide stern opposition for Michigan in the Big Ten, crushed South Dakota State 101-55. St. Louis, favored to win the Missouri Valley Conference, slaughtered North Dakota State 114-50. Kansas, the Big Eight favorite, came from 14 points back to defeat Arkansas 65-60 and North Carolina, expected to contend with Duke for the Atlantic Coast Conference crown, overcame Clemson 77-59.

Athletes Are Guests of White House

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
WASHINGTON (AP) — What do Olympic athletes talk about when they get together at the White House?

The answer is simple. After the initial nervousness wears off, and the "ohs" and "ahs" have been said, they talk about the Olympics.

There were 109 in all — out of 125 American medalists — at the unprecedented luncheon President Johnson gave Tuesday to salute the team. The missing were mostly on tour in Europe.

President Johnson was unable to attend the luncheon because of an important conference with Ambassador Maxwell Taylor and Cabinet members on the subject of Viet Nam. Later he told the athletes:

"You exemplify the ideal of our nation for all phases of the public life... you have symbolized for all of us Americans what taking part — a genuine, dedicated all-out part — can produce, and we salute you for it with a pride that carries a full bright green earth nestled at the foot of the west Maui mountain range.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer represent the United States as the defending Canada Cup champion team — and Nicklaus will defend the individual trophy, both awards won last year in Paris.

Palmer is representing the United States for the fourth time but the American ace, who has won everything else of national and international consequence, has yet to win this one. The Yankees are favored, but they are confronted with stern opposition from Spain, which finished second a year ago; South Africa, anchored by Gary Player and Canada's Al Balding and George Knudson.

New AFL Record in Attendance

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League has set an attendance record of 1,263,186 in 47 games as compared to the old mark of 1,241,741 set in a full 54-game schedule last season.

The two clubs that have completed their home seasons have set new marks. New York drew 298,972 for seven home games, compared to 103,550 last year at the Polo Grounds. Buffalo drew 257,324 to 209,719 in 1963.

measure of gratitude.

The American team at Tokyo won 36 firsts to 30 for a highly disappointed Russia. Counting team medals, in all 125 Americans won 150 medals. This is the first time Olympians have ever been invited to the White House.

Here's the way the conversation ran at a typical table:

Don Schollander, Lake Oswego, Ore., winner of four gold medals in swimming — "How good is the Russian basketball team?"

Joe Caldwell, Texas City, Tex., a member of the winning basketball team — "They're good, but they haven't been playing the game long enough."

Schollander was the conversational center of the table just as he was the star of the Games — an unpretentious, well-spoken, pink-cheeked youth of 18.

During the luncheon each of the athletes, as unobtrusively as possible, pocketed the white match books that read "The President's House" and the carefully lettered luncheon menus.

When it was over they filed back to the East Room to hear and meet the President, their big day at an end.

The Bermuda Islands were named for Juan de Bermudez, a 16th century Spanish navigator.

Best Gift Is Give a Little of Yourself

The only gift that can put us in a millionaire's bracket is the gift of ourselves, of our time, and our effort. After all, any hour of the day is as precious to us as to the wealthiest man in the world.

The gifts we give this way: the time out to visit a sick neighbor, to talk with someone who's unhappy, to take a child on a small excursion—is something that no money can buy. A cup of coffee, offered at the right moment, can be a tremendous gift. Occasions for service like this are all around us. They usually crop up at the least suitable time, but that makes what we have done even more important.

There are other ways in which we can give our time to good advantage. These include work for the church, volunteer efforts for any cause we believe in. One of the best, especially in these days, is a gift to the Boys' Clubs of America. A very distinguished elder statesman, Herbert Hoover, has given thousands of hours to this cause over decades.

Every Boys' Club relies on volunteer help. Can you spare them an hour or two? Can you spend a bit of time to start one in your community?

If there is no such Club in your community, you can help in a very special way to start one. This is a gift you can give to the present and to the future. Mr. Hoover once called our youth our "most precious natural resource." This resource needs the aid of every citizen.

The national headquarters will send you information, or you can contribute funds to their current goal, "1000 Clubs for 1,000,000 Deserving Boys" by sending a contribution to the Herbert Hoover Fund, Box 1000, New York, New York. This brings us back to money again. . . but it means that an hour's pay can give a bonus in the spirit of Christmas. After all, what we are talking about is helping others—isn't it? And all of us must do it in our own way.

HAND-KNIT for many Christmases of enjoyment! Colorful red, white and green Santa stocking is easy to knit, of wool worsted, comes in complete kit which includes instructions, yarn, even the angora for St. Nick's beard! Knit child's name into sock, if you like.

Leather Is Welcomed by All Males

Every male member of the family will look forward to a gift of leather, come Christmas morn. Here are a few suggestions from Leather Industries of America to help you with your gift list.

Travelin' man? Handsome airplane-weight leather luggage will get his Christmas off to a flying start. The new soft-sided leather bags are light in hand, and resist scuffing and scratching. Leather two-suiters, weekenders, over-night cases, club bags are available in a wide range of colors.

Six or sixty, the men on your list will treasure a gift of leather long after it is unwrapped Christmas day. Rugged attractive and light in hand, leather wallets, leather belts, leather sporting goods, leather-cased travel-clocks, leather smoking accessories last for years and get handsomer with use.

In any leather shop, department store or sporting goods shop there are a wealth of leather articles this year. And speaking of wealth, he's sure to appreciate a leather billfold, wallet or "secretary" to carry his cash, credit cards, etc. They come in smooth or textured leather or grained cowhide, calf, morocco, pin seal, pigskin or ostrich, to name a few. For sportsmen, there are luxurious

Handbags Are in Handy Selections

Handbags come in a handsome selection of textures, col-

leather golf bags, tooled leather gun-cases, suede shooting vests for sheels, and even high hunting boots of tough but supple leather.

What better gift for a boy at first frost-time than ice skates with durable leather shoes attached? Slip a pair of windproof package, and guarantee a child as warm as he is happy. The young athlete will loudly acclaim a gift of a softball, baseball, or boxing gloves and punching bag. For the younger boy, a cowhide belt and holster and a pair of genuine leather Indian moccasins will put him on a par with any television hero.

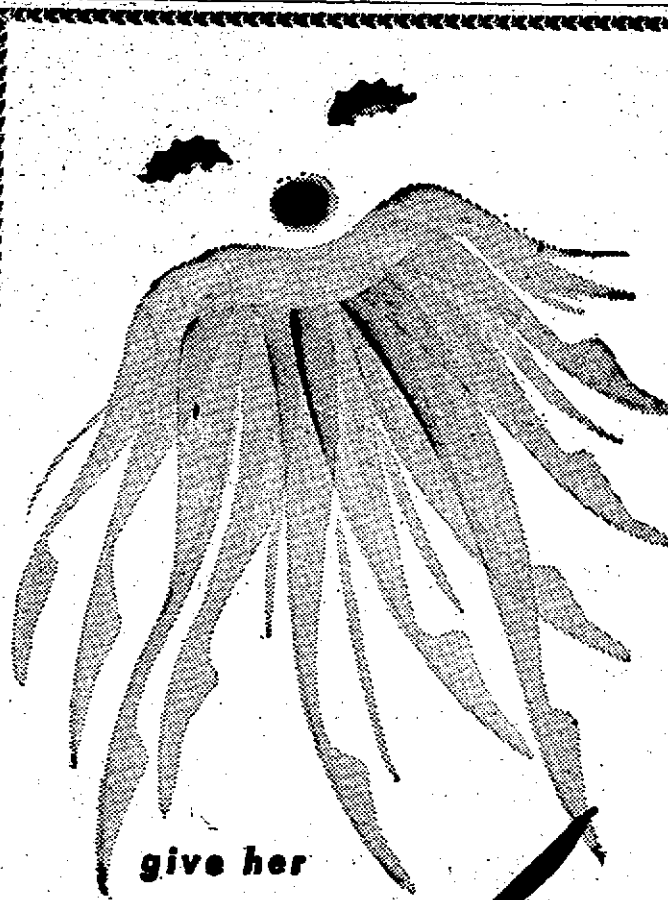

Men delight in small gifts, too. Smart new leather accessories are designed to really please: there are leather keycases, eyeglass holders, wallets, cigarette cases, fitted leather manicure sets, small enough for a pocket.

ors and styles this season. They're calculated to satisfy the taste of the most discriminating woman.

A smart gift choice, practical for every-day use, is a pouch, tote or stachel in grained, brushed, waxy or antiqued leather. New roomy leather handbags in rich deep colors or neutral tones accessorize perfectly with day-time apparel.

Getting "organized" is always a favorite delay tactic before going out for the evening. If she is prone to start searching for missing eyeglasses while you're patiently waiting, surprise her with a handsome set of matching leather purse "organizers." In smooth, grained or lustre leather these wallets, French purses, key-cases and eyeglasses cases are available in a wide variety of colors and are both pretty and practical.

For fashionable assets to dressy late-day costumes, a leather envelope or clutch will find favor with the lady on your list. These sleek handbag styles come in smooth and suede leather, lustre leather and other beautiful leather finishes, and are most often trimmed with a simple burnished golden closing or other tasteful decoration.

Here's a Little Riddle About Holiday Gifts

Here's a holiday gift riddle: what item of apparel do women like to receive, and men like to give, but neither ever mentions before Christmas?

Answer: lacy, lovely lingerie.

Although lingerie is a favorite gift under many a Christmas tree, most men find shopping for the intimate items something of an ordeal. Those who summon up the courage may end up with a fur trimmed robe or frothy negligee that is totally impractical for the woman who receives it. No wife would think of returning such a compliment to her femininity—even if she rarely wears it.

To avoid the extravagant gesture and assure a most-wanted gift, Gossard-Artemis offers these suggestions to help a distraught husband in the proper selection of lingerie. Ladies...

Don't just hint that you'd like lingerie. Speak up and be specific.

Be sure he has your sizes: it helps, too, if he has the name of a favorite sales woman who is "in" on your secret desire.

Don't be too practical. Most men like to go a little bit wild at Christmas, so indulge yourself, too.

Learn what's new in both day-wear and sleepwear fashions. Lace is in for everything from slips to pajamas, gowns and brunch coats. Most of the new laces are machine-washable, all nylon, underlaid with tricot to give body and added color.

Recording units help make home entertainment a participation sport, and keep the family at home enjoying it.

Many of the new styles use contrasting colors, combining of-fee lace, with a light blue underlay of filmy nylon, or coral lace over a pink underlay.

The misty look, created by combining sheer, and not-so-sheer nylon tricot is in, and designed for wearing every day in the week.

Heading the fashion parade of new designs is a demi-set; it looks like the chemise of the Twenties. With its own bikini panties it can be worn for both day and sleepwear and is especially chic in black Crepe-set trimmed with pink.

For young romantics, fashion favors an enchanting Grecian one-shoulder gown. It's made of a tured nylon tricot crepe, comes in white, pink and blue and drapes and falls with unexcelled grace.

Also shown is a softly romantic, two-tone waltz length gown.

A Gift That Really Goes to Her Head

Looking for a gift that will really go to her head? A gift certificate for a new hat from her favorite milliner's is truly a thoughtful gift.

Style is dazzling in variety, ranging all the way from casual berets to floppy brims. The perennial beret is worn in a multitude of ways... some berets cover the hair completely, others are worn in pillbox fashion or tilting forward to skim the brow.

Brims made news in a myriad of shapes and sizes. There are small tailored fedoras and swaggers a la Henry Higgins, of "My Fair Lady" fame, plus large winged an dsloping brims, oversized bretons and rollers these, in addition to floppy double-faced stitched brims, are the exciting new silhouettes of the season.

Echoing the "My Fair Lady" look of the newer hat fashions are sleek caps that curve to fit the contour of the head. Turbans also recreate the romantic aura of the turn of the century

It has an alluring Empire bodice, cut low, bat-wing sleeves (very big, throughout the fashion picture), and a pale blue skirt of gathers.

The crepe look is definitely in. Sleepwear speaks the language of femininity and shapes are soft and romantic. Choose gifts o flingerie for the ladies you love. No matter what her age if she's over sixteen she'll thrill to your selection.

All Children Prefer Toys

Ask any child what he wants for Christmas and the answer will invariably be "Toys!" Small wonder then that the day after Christmas finds Mother wondering how to cope with the deluge of toys, all of which seem to be underfoot.

One answer to this problem is to encourage neatness in your youngster by providing him with a place to store his toys. Steel cabinets are practical, inexpensive, storage chests that come in many designs. Floor-standing models accommodate the reach of any child, even a toddler; (shelves can be assigned according to your children's varying height.)

Costume Jewelry Pins in Pairs

Since fashion covers a variety of bared-back styles in dresses for late day and dress-up, Tri-fari suggests costume jewelry pins in pairs to wear on the side of a back plunge or at the lowest part of the back.

Pick a pair in gay flower designs and match them with earrings to please your "special girls."

with swirls and drapes, smoothed, and rounded lines plus back detailing. Large bows, or jeweled and feathered pom poms of ten dangle from the crown.

Warm tones dominate the season's kaleidoscope with red and green leading in importance, seconded by the complete brown spectrum, plus shocking pink, pale turquoise, black and white.

Today Youths Simply Love All Jewelry

The time is long-past when teen-agers' jewelry selection made mothers turn gray. Today teen-agers love good jewelry and love to receive jewelry gifts, according to the industry's Council.

Girls at this age are very "grown-up" and respond to the special meaning of lasting gifts, such as watches and silverware.

Teen-agers' tastes tend to the classic styles whether the jewelry is karat gold, gold-filled or costume types. Pearls favored, cultured or simulated, are the graduated necklace lengths of 18 to 22 inches.

Necklaces with semi-precious stones, such as turquoise, amber or jade in a wide range of styles are also favorites. Pendants are also favorites. Pendants are popular, either with a dainty pearl or colored stone nesting in a tiny gold leaf or lacy gold frame.

Pines — delicate and precious-looking, often sprinkled with stones, and in motifs borrowed from the world of the bees and flowers — are favorites.

Classics in gold, giant safety pins, circle pins, leaf and feather designs — are other gift ideas. Scarab and bangle bracelets and charm bracelets all rank high.

Charm bracelets, in silver or gold, are more attractive than ever and the variety of charms is endless, including miniature class rings, pennants, silhouette heads, zodiac signs and various

Big Variety of Intricate Games

Good sports or not, your family will marvel at the variety of intricate games this Christmas that bring even big league sports down to table-size.

Whether your son tried out for quarterback or water-boy, he'll appreciate the latest NFL electric football game including a magnetized ball and a kicker-passer device that is extraordinarily real.

With the introduction of so many indoor ice rinks, ice hockey has become a "regular" with the high school crowd. It is no surprise, then, to see an electric hockey game featuring an icy-pro-puck to appear on the game scene.

Billiards has been excavated from those dark and sinister tombs called pool halls, given a little dusting off and introduced to the entire family.

types of symbolic figures of favorite hobbies or games.

A new trend reflecting fashions for pretties of the past is exquisite cameo jewelry such as mother-of-pearl cameos for earrings, pendants, pins and rings. The range of rings designed expressly for teen-agers includes birthstone, pearls and many others.

Teen girls also have a special feeling for fine silver, many of them have already started to plan and dream of their own collections. Additions to flatware, extra serving pieces, silver bowls, trays and serving dishes all say "Merry Christmas" with a special sparkle.

A Watch for the Lady Has Dual Purpose

This year, more than ever, a woman's watch tells more than the hour. It tells of her tastes, her appreciation of lovely jewelry and her fashion know-how in coordinating costume accessories, observes the Jewelry Industry Council.

Styled for fashion appeal and built for many years of accurate timekeeping, fine jeweled watches come in distinctive shapes, sizes and finishes. Thanks to modern design, it is no longer necessary to limit one's choice to a round or square shape, for there are now many others new and exciting, including the marquise, octagon, tear-drop, pear, oval, clover-leaf, circle - in - a-marquise and diamond. Today's watches come in white gold and yellow gold, as well as the popular multi-colored gold, and the finishes include Florentine, matte and polished, in addition to combinations of these.

For added jewelry elegance, many of the new watches have beautiful woven mesh bracelet-type bands. Another important trend is the bracelet watch... wide, hinged or flexible. The multi-faceted crystal continues to attract admirers, since it adds sparkling beauty to the face of every watch, while some have jewel-studded lids which ingeniously conceal a time-piece. Diamond watches are quite popular, of course, and are priced far more modestly than most shoppers realize.

Watchbands have also taken on a fashion aura and are designed to show timepieces off to best advantage. Newest styles are extremely thin, of tapered mesh, and have almost a "solid gold" look. They feature flexible links for extra ease and comfort; a small expansion section under the clasp makes them easy to put on or take off.

Whatever the lady's tastes in watches, you can be sure there is a watch designed to please her.

tion eliminates the source of 35 per cent of hosiery runs.

For the lady with an active social calendar, you can't give her too many sheer sandalfoot seamless stockings.

The festive gift boxes that hold a bountiful gift of a dozen stockings also star later in boudoir decors. This Christmas you'll find Currier and Ives winter scene covers on holiday gift boxes in your favorable hosiery department.

Stockings That Solve All Present

That favorite "solve everything" gift for the female contingent — a festive gift box of stockings — takes on new dimensions of interest this Yule season. Never before has there been such an exhilarating variety in stocking styles.

For the glamour girl on the gift list, Santa's assistant will be sure of applause if they fill the Yule gift box with "Diamonds", a fair lady's best friend, and also a new pattern in seamless stockings of texturized nylon in a lacy diamond pattern.

For the sophisticated set, choose "Diamonds" in smokey white, navy, black or topaz shades, suggests Grace Jones, vice president of Hanes.

For outdoor type country girls and gals "on the town", too, are some new textured nylon seamless stockings. Herringbone stockings, for example, are available in brown and white, gray and white, green and maroon and brown and olive combinations. Ribbed casuals in textured seamless stockings are new in smoky white.

Practical belles will welcome a big gift box of "Cantrece Sheerloc" stockings with a new run guard construction in the heel and toe. This new construc-

One Christmas Project Pays Big Dividends

Here's a Christmas project that can pay dividends year after year — make a toy chest. You'll find it fun. There are many types.

All use the same basic stock of Ponderosa Pine. A basic toy chest should be 3 feet long, with sides, top and bottom measuring the same. One 1x12 inch board should run down the center, two 1x4-inch boards on each side. The 1x4's neatly frame the top so that no framing inside is needed.

How about a "covered wagon" chest? It should be 3 feet long, using 1x4's and 1x12's; since the upper course of 1x4's forms the top of the box without any extra framing pieces. The bottom section of the box is easily framed by using corner posts of 1x2's laid flat against the front and back areas. Two extra lengths

Yule Entertaining Festive and Gay

Christmas entertaining today, as always, is traditionally festive and gay. Modern hostesses take delight in decorating the house and displaying their talents for do-it-yourself projects as at no other time of the year. It's easy to go out and buy of this same 1x2" stock are used as runners for an inside sliding tray made of 1x4" Ponderosa Pine. The bottom of the inside is covered with a panel of 1/8" inch hardboard. The tray is set in flush with the top of the bottom section of the chest.

Or make a "circus" chest. The basic box is a rectangle, three feet long. Sides, top and bottom are the same: one 1x12" board down the center, two 1x4" boards on each side. Lower case itself needs 1x2" corner posts and runners of the same material to hold a sliding inside tray. This is also made of 1x4's with a hardboard bottom.

Adding special finishing touches gives you and your child an opportunity to give the chest that personal look you want. Make one for Christmas!

SHE'LL GET A BOOT OUT OF THESE NEW FOOTWEAR STYLES. Leather dress boots are the latest thing for holiday giving and wearing. Here are some smart examples: top: the suit boot, spat boot, knee-high boot. Bottom, the ankle boot formal boot and cuff boot. Styles feature patent leather and embroidery trims.

Angel Motif Charming, Inexpensive

are fun to make, and easy as well. All it takes to create a charming angel motif, for instance, is a few materials from the five-and-dime: dark blue or green wrapping paper, gold wrapping paper, pink construction paper, gold Christmas ribbon, sparkly tissue paper and glue.

First, wrap package in sparkly tissue paper, then tape blue or green wrapping paper to top part of box, covering one-third of package, to serve as background for angel's face. To make your "angel face," cut a three-inch circle from the construction paper; also cut tiny arms and legs about an inch and a half long. Paint eyes and a smile on face and glue to box. Cut hair from gold wrapping paper and glue in place.

Pleat a length of sparkly tissue paper to fashion dress and glue in place, with arms and legs. Tie gold ribbons to indicate wings and glue at sides.

A lovely cathedral effect can also be achieved on gift packages, simply by using "Q-Tips" and a few tiny Christmas bulbs. Place swabs on wrapped package, snipping swabs in half to make archway. To create design over archway, snip cotton tips from three swabs and glue tiny Christmas bulbs between each tip. Be sure to use dark wrapping paper as background, in order to create as much contrast as possible, with white "Q-Tips" outline. The ultimate effect will be a striking, snow-etched cathedral!

A Gift of Time Would Be Welcome

Gift wrapped... up to 300 extra hours a year!

One present that is certainly appreciated by any housewife is a gift of time. Laundry appliances, luxury items in any household, are ingenious timesavers. An automatic washer and dryer will save today's busy homemaker an amazing amount of time and energy she needs for many other activities. And they help her retain her youthful good looks.

Statistics show that a dryer alone can save a homemaker up to 300 hours a year. And Maytag laundry experts point out that the work some homemakers save would equal the energy spent in a fantastic 40-mile walk with two tons of clothing.

Along with time and labor saved, modern laundry appliances give better results. Features such as a new electronic control, designed to stop the dryer automatically when clothes are properly dried, preventing the shrinkage, and harshness that can result from drying clothes too long, provide modern efficiency as well as time saved. Washers with an automatic fabric softener dispenser and automatic soak and pre-wash cycles makes laundry a one-stop job for laundry appliances combine time with convenience, style and beauty to make a gift for many a Christmas.

Poise of the Little Girl Can Be Aided

The charming poise of certain little girls doesn't just happen... it is the result of many influences in their background, according to psychological findings. Mothers who would like to see their young daughters take more of an interest in clothes and grooming might take a tip from the Ideal Toy Corporation when it comes to Christmas gifts.

the things that make Christmas at your home. But somehow Christmas feels more like Christmas when there's something of you in the decorations that spell out the holiday spirit. With a little time and imagination, you can make charming adornments for your home. And it's so simple with the help of Christmas gift wrapping papers, in themselves so in keeping with the spirit of the season, says studio director for Norcross, one of the country's leading gift wrap producers.

Stylish Muffler for Dad, Brother

Dad, brother or husband will always appreciate a stylish muffler for Christmas. For the contemporary minded young man there are handsome jacquards, abstract prints and textured woven styles. Dad will approve the more traditional foulards, ting this season: the creators of "Tammy", a fashion-conscious teenager, and her little sister, "Pepper," suggest helping daughter's social development along with a gift of these chic little dolls.

Because "Tammy" has a complete wardrobe for every occasion, the young girl who owns her, soon, becomes very aware of fashion and appropriate dress. Dressing her "Tammy" doll becomes a subtle lesson in good grooming and will make "the band box" look easier for her to achieve as she grows up.

With this awareness of good dressing rules, comes an assurance that can go a long way toward giving her that social poise and smart appearance that is so important to all young ladies.

Wrapping Yule Presents Is the Happiest Part

Wrapping presents can be the happiest part of the holiday season.

Traditional printed Christmas papers are great time-savers. But you can also wrap gifts in one-of-a-kind way, by using striped paper, colorful tissue, foil glitter paper, even brown wrapping paper.

Along with the tyings and wrappings add mistletoe, holly-berrie, pine cones, tinsel, stars, felt cut-outs, stencil designs or crayon drawings for superb effect, advises June Behling, art director of Whitman Publishing Company, producers of gift wrappings, ribbons and bows.

"Wrapping presents can be a sociable time shared by all members of the family. Even the youngest child likes to wrap a gift he has bought for a friend or relative. Wrappings with a personal touch are ideal for home-made candy, cookie or preserves. 'From-me-to-you' touches can be elegant on special gifts chosen for favorite people," she points out.

Sometimes the shape of a package suggests ideas. A tapered package, wrapped in tissue, needs only a crayon-drawn angel face and two wings to be an enchanting sight under the tree. Or a tubular package could be topped with a cut-out "flame" to look like a large Christmas candle.

At other times, let the contents suggest your wrappings. A fruitcake, wrapped in solidgreen or striped paper, can be topped with a cluster of artificial fruit.

These inexpensive papers and novelty trims are available at drug, variety and department stores. Add your touch of care and flair for a personalized look. Stacked under the tree, packages like these are as fanciful and colorful as the ornaments above.

Substitute for Fabulous Silk Crepe

Exotic, luxurious silk crepe was the fabric of the stars back when Carole Lombard was leading the Hollywood fashion parade. Silk crepe was what nightgowns and lingerie for film queens were made of. It had wow-appeal.

High society liked it, too — for its softness, its perfect drapability, its frosty outer surface.

But it was a luxury to wear silk crepe. You couldn't wash it and the little French cleaning expert could not be found everywhere. When found, she was expensive.

Came the war, and silk crepe was no more, except in Europe. Nylon tricot took over — and that was just fine. Silk crepe became a thing of the past and a dream.

But the American ENKA Corporation was determined to recreate the fluid drape and luxurious hand of traditional crepe in nylon. This long-awaited development is now available in Crepeset nylon, a nylon with the crepe pebbles built into the yarn itself.

Crepeset has the rich soft feel of crepe and the luminous sheerness of crepe as well as all of ties of nylon. Just wash it and let it dry!

This new nylon crepe is laun-

NO CORD TO PULL WITH THIS SHAVER. Shave in the hunting field or in a hotel, the Remington Electronic II can give you this. Powered by rechargeable nickel-cadmium batteries, Dad will never need to replace blades or need an outlet to get the perfect shave he wants each and every time.

Pictures Are Treasured by All Families

The camera that trails a youngster delivering a gift, or sights a street-corner Santa talking to an awe-struck child can often yield a little photographic masterpiece. But even if your photos aren't apt to win a prize, it's still fun to take pictures, especially during the holidays. And a really exciting project for the amateur camera fan is a photographic essay on the Yuletide season.

Begin taking photos at the first hint of the season, making up a list of likely subject matters well in advance. Start with the first appearance of Santa, cover a shopping stint, and carry right on through Christmas Day activities. It's all there for the taking. The expressions of anticipation and excitement, the story-telling action, the colorful holiday setting. The trick is to catch it early and completely, and in color, if possible!

Shoot more than one picture of each situation, particularly those involving children, and in picture-story sequence. Shooting in sequence is a wonderful way to record the antics of youngsters. When you're photographing a child, it's a good idea to come in as close as your camera will allow, including only that background which is important to the meaning of the picture. If you think the youngster may suddenly move toward, you, step back an extra foot or two to allow a safety zone.

Group shots of children can really tell a story, especially during the holidays. Photographing four or five children instead of one may pose a problem but the solution is simple. Stay on the sidelines and snap when the youngsters are so absorbed in their own activities that they won't notice you. Opportunities like this abound at Christmas. Your best angle in such a situation is a high one. . . . a foot or two above the children's heads. Aim down so that you look into the group. In this way, none of the children will block your view of the others and all will be nearly the same distance from the camera.

Make sure your camera is in working order for your project, and that you have plenty of flashbulbs, fresh batteries and color films.

No Trouble in Dolls for Young This Season

You should have no trouble in selecting a new or different doll for the younger ones this Christmas. There are dolls that weep, dolls that have newest fashion hairdos, dolls engagingly grotesque. Believe it or not these fascinating trolls with unruly colored hair might be the run-away best sellers of the season.

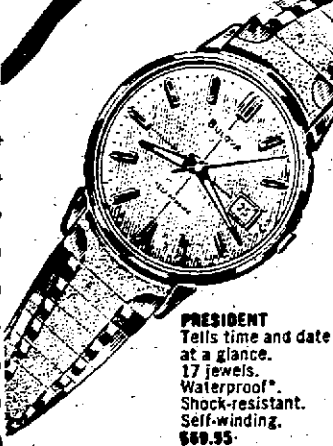

Yet, your littlest granddaughter will probably prefer "Weepy Wiggles" who weeps and squirms with uncanny virtuosity as she takes her bottle. But if your young favorite asks for a "Pamela," look for the doll who walks sedately with a poodle on a leash.

For the young miss who is a doll collector select one of the more sophisticated coquette dolls featured with continental

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — One sometimes starts thinking of television as an endless stream of silly situation comedies and melodramatic soap operas occasionally interrupted by a routine variety show.

The next time such dour reflections occupy this viewer's mind, I shall recall Monday night's programs.

For one hour early in the evening we were treated to an enchanting concert by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, enlivened by the comments of conductor Leonard Bernstein.

A short time later, Andy Williams turned up on his own program with delightful Julie Andrews in tow and there followed a happy 60 minutes of tuneful music and gentle good humor.

Finally there was an hour's appreciation of Sir Winston Churchill as a statesman but primarily as a Sunday painter. It included absolutely stunning color photography of the British countryside, interiors of Churchill's great house, Chartwell, and the Riviera seacoast.

For all that glorious photography, "The Other World of Winston Churchill" had its problems. Churchill at 90 is a very large subject and the program never seemed able to go in any styled costumes and the most elaborate hairdos yet.

Or if your favorite is learning to read, she will be thrilled by a doll inspired by a children's literary classic. "Mary Poppins" who has inspired many a young student, is a new arrival. Those two funny-faced cuddlers, "Raggedy Ann" and "Andy" have bright new wardrobes for this season. For the theatre comes And not to be forgotten is "GI Joe" who can accompany many a little boy through a fantasy war game.

Any boy who loves dogs will take to "Tony Baloney," a fan with unusual appeal. His ears are floppier, his body more elongated, and his eyes sadder than any predecessors. For little girls, our doll kennel club has faithful "Lazy Daisy" whose long poodle-like hair is done up in curlers and who sports blue eye-shadow to match a bevy of ribbons.

Doll houses are keyed to home-fashion. The Fashion Doll House, for example, offers a career girl's convertible apartment which, with the flip of decorative screen, changes from living room to bedroom. It's styled for the 8 to 11-inch fashion doll. This new doll-house of sturdy fiberboard also converts into a suitcase for easy carrying or storage.

one direction for long.

The heart of the program was the films of his paintings which explained his interest better than rather pointless stories by Merle Oberon and Viscount Montgomery.

For almost 50 years he found that "just to paint is great fun." In the closeups of his reactions to sun and shade, sea and snow, Venetian brides, Greek temples, English daffodils, that pleasure showed.

All three programs, demonstrated anew the miracle of television: three treats, each of a

Tinkertoys Go On Forever

Toys come, and toys go, but Tinkertoy seems to go on forever. In the round can, packed along with the colored sticks and spools is an instruction booklet that will be a "breather" for Mom... hours of fun for Junior to keep him absorbed.

Playing with toys is not just fun and games, however. It represents a very important learning process for the child because he learns by doing. Child psychologists have described the perfect toy as one that is suited to the child's level of development.

Tinkertoy is enjoyed by children of many ages. It's safe. In addition, it is as creative as the child himself, and because of its many building ideas, is always new to the moppet.

The original Tinkertoy had only minor changes until 1955 when color was added.

Slippers Are Nice on Cold Yule Morning

Slipping into those new leather slippers on Christmas morn you know the holiday has officially arrived. As the important accessory to luxurious lounging as well as at bedtime, slippers in soft suede or smooth leather are the fitting gift for any one in the family.

Women's styles range from backless mules to beaded scuffs, from cozy boots to exotic sandals. Metallic-colored smooth leather sandals with curved tiny heels will make Mama feel the Scheherazade.

Smart pastel suede mules with a touch of jewelry or embroidery, or simple leather scuffs are most welcome. If she's a teenager, she'll flip when she slips into a soft-as-a-snowflake, slipper boot in smooth, or brushed leather. Young fashion-touches include braid or fur trim, strap-and-buckle effects, and combinations of leather textures or colors.

The bedroom boot is also a favorite with the slipper-y male. Lightweight boot is shearling lined. There's also the opera-type slipper in glove-soft leather. And, too, leather folding slippers that are packable, practical present. They fold into their own pocket.

Recorders Available to Fit Decor

If you've been putting off purchasing a tape recorder because the design might upset your decor, perhaps this is the time to choose.

Revere-Wollensak, now offers recorders in decorator-styled models to enhance home furnishings.

For those preferring the conventional recorder, there are styles in walnut and teak-wood cases with rich brown tones and brushed gold paneling which lend tasteful elegance to any decor.

These recorders provide four track quality stereo and mono aural record and play-back features. They also boast separate, detachable wing speakers which swing on hinges to cover the front of the machine, lock for easy portability and hide the tape reels and controls.

Other new units which add contrast to room's decor are the latest models in a series of au-omatic tape recorders.

Encased in handsome walnut and teak wood cabinets they feature their own powerful amplifiers, separate bookshelf or wall speakers.

Most women who are perplexed by the mechanics of changing tapes, will welcome the music industry's first automatic tape-changing system. Using simple tape cartridges it automatically incorporates threading, playing, rewinding and changing of the tapes. Up to 20 cartridges offering 15 hours of stereophonic music can be played automatically without interruption with just a push of a button.

Young Girls Happy With Party Dresses

If you want to make a young miss happy this Christmas give her a party dress, a jumper, sweater or gay accessory from the "Barbie" line-up of coordinated fashions.

"Barbie," for the uninitiated, is perhaps the world's most popular doll. She is eleven and one-half inches tall and looks like a teen-age fashion model.

Capturing the imagination of the pre-teen generation, thanks to her extensive fashion right wardrobe, young girls love dressing "Barbie" in everything from bikinis to ball gowns — complete to the last finishing touch of accessories.

Now, Mattel, Inc., toy-making parent of "Barbie" and all her fashions, have acceded to the requests of millions of "Barbie," a little mothers, and have introduced a line of fashions specifically for girls aged five to twelve, in sizes from seven to fourteen.

There are party dresses, casual wear and sportswear fashions: pajamas, robes and lingerie, skirts, slacks, and blouses; rainwear, umbrellas; even clutches, wallets, autograph books, diaries and scrapbooks are included in the Barbie fashionworld.

are more than just recoring machines for the living room or den. They're fine home furnishings, too.

Leather Coat Covers Much Happiness

The gift of a leather coat covers so much happiness. . . easily achieved this holiday season. There's a wide range of smart styles exciting colors and interesting textures, advises Leather industries of America.

Leather coats, jackets and other apparel come in a greater than ever selection to make Santa's choice of milady's Christmas gift a real snap.

A Christmas package, to delight any lady, contains a lightweight leather coat in deep red, olive green, true blue, or one of the popular shade of brown. In buttersy suede or sleek, smooth leather — lined in shearling or silk—these full-length beauties are tops in beauty, comfort and long-term wearability.

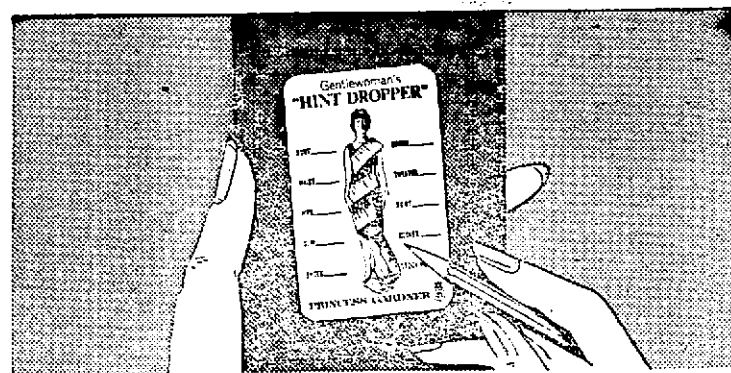

Leather wear is equally fashionable and wearable on the ski slopes and in other snowy environments. Gala gifts include leather ski pants and shearling-lined parkas as well as exciting after-ski fashions such as stoles, skirts and pullovers interpreted in bright, dramatic colors and novel leather textures.

And remember, there's a happy dividend included in your Christmas leather gift! The new leathers are as easy to care for as they are fun to wear. Suede leathers need only occasional dry cleaning and smooth leathers can be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Whether you make your gift of leather dazzling, daring, dramatic or decidedly utilitarian, remember it's easy to care for, and is durable as well as fashionable.

Wrappings this year come in a rainbow of colors to coordinate with any interior scheme and stunning decorations can result. "Jeweled Treasure," a frosted medallion design, for instance, lends itself to an elegant dining setting. A two-tiered epergne to be filled with fruit is made from a cardboard hat box. The paper's design is cut out to form scalloped edging around each tier which is repeated in a center table mat and a decorative collar around the table's edge.

Many Gifts Help Lady Be Well Groomed

An ideal gift for a busy homemaker or career woman is any gift that helps her keep well-groomed with a minimum of work, a maximum of time saving, and freedom to go about her business.

Just such a gift item is that of a portable hair dryer. Although there are numerous models available for consideration, these days, one of the newest and trimmest is the over-the-shoulder hair dryer, weighing a mere 40-ounces, introduced recently by the Ronson Company in time for Christmas giving.

A busy gal can keep up with other chores while she dries her hair to beauty-salon perfection. She can "wear" the dryer like a shoulder bag and move about freely thanks to its ten foot long cord.

The dryer can be used in its case, or out of it as a table top unit. Besides its big, roomy hood, (to cover even the largest rollers), it is the only hair dryer that has brush and comb attachments.

The world's lightest dryer, the Ronson "Escort," is whisper-quiet, and can't interfere with radio or TV. It's thermo-statically-protected against overheating, and features easily "dialed" hot, medium, warm or cool settings.

Elegantly fashioned in white, with gold-tone control panel and blue translucent air hose, the unit's storage-travel case is conveniently fitted with a large, unbreakable mirror in the lid.

Hand Craft Gifts Are Returning

Once upon a time, in the not too distant past, Christmas carried a "hand-made, home-made" flavor—from the tree which was selected in its natural habitat to the strings of popcorn, paper festoons and ornaments on it, as well as the diversity of hand-crafted gifts dressing up the base of the tree.

Now in the sensational Sixties, gift-giving is returning to the good old days when the thought was more important than the price tag.

And — it's all part of a revival of the do-it-yourself trend that has extended itself into the Yuletide season and is recapturing the true Christmas spirit.

In bygone days — perhaps even when grandma and grandpa were young, the gifts put under the tree were often such things as a pair of knitted mittens, hand-embroidered linens, hand-carved dolls, hand-sewn doll clothes, etc., etc.

A Perfect Gift for Go Generation

The perfect gift for the "go" generation of today is the gift of a bicycle for fun, fitness, tal value, select one of the endless assortments of novel jewelry charms this Season.

There are charms in beautiful stone-set drops; and others in a precious assortment of miniatures. All are detachable and interchangeable. Some lend themselves to the revival in fashion's penchant for "antique" pendants.

A very special gift for the lady is a smart, gold disc charm. Have it personalized with an inscription or monogram.

Lacy, lovely ensembles of gown and peignoir come in sheer and opaque nylon combinations in soft delectable colors. A gift that's so personally hers, a favorite choice of most women.

Automatic Dishwasher a Fine Gift

An automatic dishwasher at this time of the year is a special blessing for cleaning-up fragile cut glasses and large, hard-to-handle items as well as large quantities of dishes.

There are only a few simple rules to follow when washing fine china and glassware in your dishwasher, advise Hotpoint economists.

Place bowls in the corners of the washer or over the vertical multi-fingers. Bowls then should be at an angle, facing down for proper drainage. Glasses may go anywhere in the upper rack, never in the lower one.

Be sure glasses do not touch each other, and cannot be dislodged. The glass entire rim should rest on the rack. Make certain all items clear the top of the tub. Pull the racks gently to prevent glasses from tipping.

Know your china well before washing. In most good china, patterns are protected by an overglaze to prevent fading even at high temperatures and use of detergents.

Hand painted china, china with metal trim, and decorations that have been applied after the glaze has been fired are vulnerable to high water temperatures and detergent solutions, and should be carefully washed by hand in mild suds.

Please — Ties Not Welcome as Yule Gifts

Planning on giving ties this Christmas? A word to the wise: Don't. Let him choose his own. Besides, there's too many other gift ideas to help you out. To succeed with gifting takes a little know-how of a man's likes and dislikes.

What sports does he like? Does he prefer reading fiction or non-fiction? Is his taste in clothes conservative or does he lean towards the avant-garde? The answers to these questions will give you a start on your gift hunt.

Skiing has brought about more men's sportswear fashions (even among non-skiers) than any other sport since the golf fad of the '20's. Here, one may choose from a host of ideas from parkas to pants to ski caps goggles, sweaters and even warm wool socks. The socks, incidentally, will make marvelous Christmas stockings to hang up on the mantle and stuff with essentials that Dad always need, razor blades, shaving cream, etc.

Promoting a family sport like ice skating or bowling will suggest others gift possibilities — slacks, water repellent jackets, and all-weather coats. When buying men's outerwear. Look for fashion and easy wear and care features such as "Scotchgard" stain repeller. This invisible finish defies oily as well as water-borne spills and stains. This durable water repellency will last through repeated washings and dry-cleanings. Oily and water-borne stains can be simply blotted up and not a trace will be found. Since garments treated with "Scotchgard" repeller will stay clean longer, the man in your life will doubly bless what was said about neckties? It was only a joke — the one you'd pick out, he'd still love!

Col. Joseph Weydemeyer, a Union Army officer in the War between the States, was a follower of Karl Marx.

New on the toyland music front is a phonograph with a built-in projector, an antique piano and a one-man hootenanny band.

Youngsters will also take to a new version of the pounding bench with two pegs that turn a wheel. And there's a new lacing-shoe concept that provide music to enliven the task. For clock-watchers, there's a musical ticking clock and for sailors, a pull-along paddle boat.

Toyland abounds in new noises including a device that adds the sound of a speeding motor the operation of a bike and other wheel toys. As the speed accelerates, so does the sound.

The youngster who loves playthings as big as himself will be intrigued by a new crawl-in fire house of sturdy firboard. An new puppet theatre of fiberboard is designed to go in a doorway.

No Basis for Report of Hoover Firing

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary George E. Reedy says President Johnson "never heard of" a reported plan to replace FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

At two news briefings Monday, Reedy denied a report in the current issue of Newsweek magazine that Johnson had become a "disenchanted fan" of Hoover and "had decided by last week that he must find a new chief of the FBI."

Newsweek stuck to its story. Editor Osborn Elliott distributed this statement to White House newsmen:

"The report in this week's issue of Newsweek that 'the search is on for a successor to Mr. J. Edgar Hoover came from a most reliable source on the planet Mars.

within the White House, and Newsweek stands by the statement."

At his morning news briefing, Reedy told newsmen: "The President never heard of such a plan and never heard of such an idea."

When the subject came up again at an afternoon briefing, Reedy stood on the earlier statement.

Hoover, whose normal retirement at age 70 next month was waived last spring by Johnson, has been criticized by civil rights groups since he referred, in an interview, to Dr. Martin Luther King as "the most notorious liar in the country."

Stockholm, Sweden, frequently is referred to as the "Venice of the North."

Silk pocket squares, generally worn with a tuxedo, are increasingly becoming popular for business and casual wear.

As might be expected, a variation of styles have appeared in order to satisfy the tastes of both traditionalists and more fashion conscious dressers. Home-made items were the first decorations to be used on Christmas trees in the early nineteenth century in the U. S. Such trimmings were small cotton tufts, strings of popcorn and cranberries, flowers, paper ornaments and the like.

Tremendous Stride in Industry

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

Arkansas' industrial boom reached another milestone this week when voters at Foreman approved a $13 million Act 9 bond issue.

The bonds would finance an expansion to double the size of the Arkansas Cement Corp. at Foreman.

The issue was the largest under Act 9 for expansion of an existing industry.

The Thanksgiving Week of 1964 seems a good time to recount briefly the history of Arkansas' tremendous economic growth in the past decade.

The starting point might be Jan. 11, 1955, when Gov. Orval

E. Faubus said in his first inaugural address:

"We have . . . a great pool of labor . . . yet there are not sufficient jobs to give employment to these fine workers. . . in this modern age, people gather where industry can be found that provides jobs . . . the answer to this problem is to be found in the expansion of our present industries, the further use of our natural resources, and the location of new industry in this state. . . let's bring the jobs here to our people. . . let's encourage industry in Arkansas. . . I have the greatest desire to see success in this endeavor."

The legislature got in high gear. It passed Act 494 in 1955, which made corporate bonds a possibility when it came time to finance the construction of an industrial plant.

The act also set up the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and Faubus named Winthrop Rockefeller (who no longer needs an introduction) to the commission. He was elected chairman.

A quality watch with smart "circle-in-the-square" design of 14k multi-colored gold with bark textured finish and black suede band is a prestige gift. Stone-set ring is another handsome suggestion.

With the backing of Faubus and the legislature, the commission developed a "selling program" emphasizing Arkansas' labor force, tax structure, natural resources and other business incentives. They took their sales pitch to industrialists everywhere.

The results were astounding. Accomplishment piled upon accomplishment.

In fiscal 1955, jobs announced by new and expanded industries totaled 5,090. In 1956, it was up to 9,471. In 1957 it was 11,424.

In 1958 totals dipped to 5,780. Two factors have been most often cited as causes of the slackening pace that year. One was the racial crisis of late 1957. Another was the nationwide business recession of 1958.

But the pace quickened again in 1959, with 10,805 jobs announced through the AIDC. It was 12,634 in 1960, another 7,290 in 1961 and 13,385 in 1962, 19,220 in 1963 and 13,397 in 1964.

That comes to well over 100,000 jobs in 10 years. There has been, of course, some overlapping in the figures, and some of the gains in each year have been lost to later decisions by businessmen who changed their minds about expanding or about locating in Arkansas.

The growth has been reflected in total employment, non-farm employment, farm employment, wages, general and special state revenues, and a development rate in excess of the national rate.

The approval of Amendment 46 in 1958 and Act 9 in 1960 stepped up the state's boom by providing sound methods of financing industries. These laws have been called the cornerstones of the industrial surge.

It has become almost old hat

Faubus Not to Act on Idle State Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP). — Gov. Orval E. Faubus indicated Monday that any move toward moving so-called idle state funds into interest-bearing bank accounts would have to be guided by state Treasurer Nancy J. Hall.

Faubus said he thought neither he nor the state Board of Finance should move in that direction without a recommendation from Mrs. Hall.

"She should tell us the condition of the funds and make a recommendation," the governor said.

The funds—some $15 million now placed in non-interest-bearing bank accounts around the state—have been a source of controversy in the search for additional funds to finance expanded state services.

Mrs. Hall has said that act 41 of 1953 prevents her from moving the funds to interest-bearing accounts. It is up to the legislature to change the law, she said.

Bankers have said the state fares just as well with the funds in non-interest accounts, because the banks do not now charge handling fees on state drafts.

when a report announces Arkansas' growth rate.

The latest one, by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, says Arkansas' total employment rate is 1.9 per cent. The national pace is 1.5 per cent.

New Idea for Those Bulky Shaped Gifts

Wondering what to do with those bulky or oddly shaped gifts that seem to defy wrapping paper, ribbon or tape? Here's a wonderful new idea for wrapping with a covering that serves as a second gift in itself.

To make a "gift bag", cut two square or rectangular pieces of fabric large enough to hold gift when sewn together. Place sides of the fabric together, and machine or hand sew on three sides. Hem the open top edges or trim by cutting the edges with pinking scissors. Turn the bag right side out, spray with Faultless spray-on starch, and iron. Repeat until the fabric bag is starched to a fresh, crisp finish. Place gift in a bag, gather the top as you would a paper bag, tying a bright bow around the neck.

Use any color or fabric for your gift bag, adding monogram

Gift Certificate Is Unusual, Ideal

Looking for an unusual gift for husband, brother or other male in the family? Give him a gift certificate from his favorite shoe store.

During the Yuletide season, let him step out smartly or relax completely in any one of the season's newest shoe styles. Shoes in soft, supple-smooth, grained or brushed leathers that will make him foot-happy all year long in the comfort of genuine leather, says the Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

Biggest news in men's shoes this year are casual slip-ons or appliques if desired by sewing them on or ironing them on with colored mending tape. A drawstring ribbon in the top hem will make it a personal laundry bag, or convert it to a carry-all for hair rollers and clips. There are no end to the uses to which these attractive gift bags can be put after the fun of opening them on Christmas morning.

Just in time for holiday baking! Any homemaker will ooh! and ah! over this new electric double oven. Has automatic b-b-q pits and accurate controls for carefree "perfect" baking.

Television and Radio

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Goldwyn, who made his first motion picture in 1913 — "The Squaw Man" — managed to control his professional enthusiasm for television until he passed his 80th birthday.

And now, Goldwyn has gathered together 50 of his features in a giant package for television use — and it represents one of the last untapped lodes of quality film entertainment.

Goldwyn, active and interested, was in New York recently to talk about movies on television. But good salesman that he is, he stuck close to the problems of making fine motion pictures. He refrained diplomatically from expressing any opinion about television's massive entertainment output beyond simple awe at the amount of material it consumes.

"There is included in my collection some pictures I made as far back as 1941 or 1939," the producer said, "and I suppose some people will be calling them 'oldies.' I say there is no such thing. Pictures are either good or they are no good, and if you go back to the theater and plays you will find that when a play is brought back it is called a 'revival'."

Among Goldwyn's projected Revivals will be "Roman Scandals" with Eddie Cantor, Ruth Etting and "The Goldwyn Girls," and "One Heavenly Night" with John Boles, Evelyn Laye and Leon Erroll. There will also be a number of Ronald Colman, Merle Oberon, and Gary Cooper vehicles. "Dead End," "The Best Years of Our Lives" and "Wuthering Heights."

Top pop singer Bobby Darin is about to demonstrate best technique for using 1964 Christmas Seals. Bobby will be heard on Christmas Seal radio shows throughout the nation.

entertainment evolved primarily, he said, from three words: "Time, integrity, taste." He was one of the first men in Hollywood who discovered that the single most important ingredient in a film was the script.

At one point Goldwyn set up a sort of apprentice writing school at his studio with up to a dozen young writers who were paid $50 a week—that was a long time ago. Now Goldwyn is interested in the University of California drama school and each year awards prizes to young script writers.

The first Goldwyn customer was CBS, who will show his film after the first of the year.

Buckles Smaller With New Tricks

An added point to note: buckles are smaller and with a few tricks. The fact, is, most belt-makers now rely on the standard leather tab for fabric belts in wide widths. And on the way up — take note — are reversible belts for the contemporary or traditional minded man.

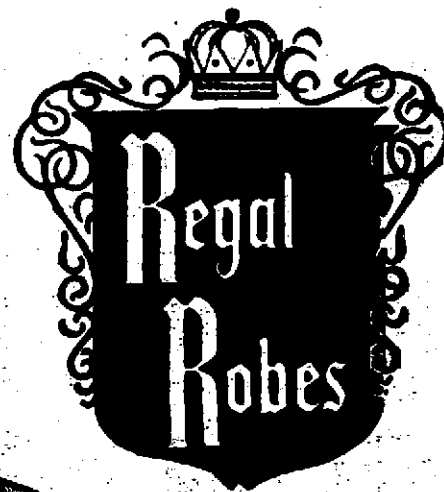

Leather looms large in men's gifts this Christmas. There are luxury leathers... textured leathers... newly-colored leathers... gleaming classic leathers. In short leather is making it in every way, including friend Alligator.

Included, too, will be suedes, chamois, buffed calfs, shrunken grains; plus the exotic types, buffalo, kangaroo, ostrich, cordovan. Even a new finish shows up for stand-by harness leathers.

Poinsettias Ideal for the Holiday

No other flower is more associated with the holiday season that lovely, star-pointed poinsettias. They impart the special warmth of Christmas, no matter where or how they are used. These perennial favorites have a grace and charm that is unique among living plants.

In groups or singly, their deep green leaves contrasted with the brilliant red or white of the flowers add distinction to any holiday room setting.

Table settings "come alive," in an instant when the poinsettias are used as a centerpiece. They stand out gracefully and dramatically against any background.

On a low bench or coffee table, the poinsettia's height is an ideal accent. Arranged in tiers on the floor, or on a bookcase or fireplace mantle, they provide a formal splendor all their own.

A white flowered poinsettia is especially dramatic when placed with two or three red ones.

New York was called New Amsterdam until the British captured it from the Dutch in 1664.

Canadians Reject Idea of Splitting

EDITORS'S NOTE — The following, second of five articles on Canada, explores the knotty question of separatism.

By MAX HARRELSON

OTTAWA (AP) — The Quebec separatists are making a lot of noise, but most Canadians emphatically reject the idea that their 97-year-old confederation is about to fall apart.

It appears almost certain, however, that important constitutional changes will be made in the next few years.

Under pressure from Quebec and other provinces, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has acknowledged the need for modernizing the constitution. He uses the term "cooperative federalism" to describe the new concept.

This by no means satisfies the French-speaking separatists, but it has won the approval of Quebec Premier Jean Lesage and other leaders of French-Canada.

The most difficult task will be to work out some sort of recognition of the French-speaking minority in Canada — almost one-third of the total population of 19 million — without further riling English-Canadians.

The bicultural problem is as old as Canada itself, because of a basic understanding that the French language and French culture would always have a distinct role in the country. The problem, however, emerged as an acute political issue in 1959 when the movement began to attract a following among students and other young people.

French-Canadian leaders are divided as to their objectives and, as a result, their cause has been weakened somewhat. The numerous organized groups go all the way from the extremists who advocate terrorism, to conservatives who will settle for modest constitutional changes.

In other parts of Canada there are signs of a substantial English backlash as a result of terrorist bombings and separatist demonstrations against Queen Elizabeth II. In the west especially, there is a strong tendency to minimize the Quebec situation or even to joke about it.

Dick Sanburn, editor of the Calgary Herald, is one of those who has spoken out against separatism.

"I feel almost certain," he said, "that the rest of Canada

Toiletries Gifts make scents. If he's fastidious, he'll like luxuriously packaged After - Shave and Cologne set, with a sophisticated scent.

has had just about enough of Quebec's spoiled-baby behavior."

Quebec Social Credit leader Real Caouette feels just as strongly on the other side.

"There are certain retrograde English-Canadians," Caouette said, "who still believe they are going to assimilate the French-Canadians and make them speak English."

Caouette added that he in-

Fishing Tackle Can't Be Wrong

Receiving fishing tackle at Christmas time truly warms the heart of any sportsman. If there's a fishing buff on your Christmas list just forge ahead and "tackle" the problem.

Reels with automatic trans-brakes, and floating bearings are among the newest aids to the fisherman. High speed spinning reels that gather in line at a five-to-one gear ratio. . . 4 completely new revolving spoon reels for salt water angling. . . Small — but rugged — bait-casting reels that weigh only 6½ ounces. . . Spincast reels drags. . . Two completely new series of power-packed hollow fiberglass rods. These items mentioned are only a few of the many fabulous items available to the angler. Good news for you, the shopper. Prices range to fit your budget.

cludes Conservative leader John G. Diefenbaker in this category.

Diefenbaker has split with several key Conservatives over the approach to constitutional changes and over the proposed new flag.

There still are some leaders who take the separatists seriously, but Premier Lesage is not one of them. He refers to them as a "small gang of extremists of no importance whatsoever."

Recent public opinion polls indicate Canadians generally agree with him. Only 20 per cent expressed the belief that Quebec might secede from Canada. Only 39 per cent believed such a move would have "very serious" effects on the future of Canada — if it happened.

Few political leaders have been as outspoken as Diefenbaker against the proposed changes. He told a recent meeting of the Ontario Conservative Association that the amendments would lead to the "Balkanization" of Canada, and that the changes were being pushed by the Liberals simply as a means of getting votes.

"The provinces," he said, "would end up with their own tariff and immigration laws and monetary policy. We can become a loose association of states."

Safety Is Must With Yuletide Decorations

It takes about five seconds for the needles of a Christmas tree to vanish in a flash of flames. The lives of many small children vanish with them, every Yuletide. According to fire safety experts approximately 3,000 children die from effects of burns each year. Nearly 12,000 children are hospitalized annually with severe burns. A staggering total.

A tragic number of these children were laughing with the joy of the Christmas season at the time they were burned as a result of various holiday accidents.

Until recently the only hospital in the nation that specialized in burns treatment was an army medical center in San Antonio. For years many doctors have called burns "the greatest unmet medical need in the U. S."

Now, the Shrine, the same fraternal organization that operates 17 hospitals for crippled children, is using its resources to plug this gap in medical treatments and facilities. They've begun constructing the first of three Shriners Burns Institutes that will cost a total of $10 million to build and some $4 million a year to operate.

As interest of Shriners in the new Burns Institutes mounts, so does membership in the fraternity. This year it has passed the $35,000 mark, an all-time high, as more and more Masons join the organization that is famous for its fun as well as its philanthropy.

Construction started last summer on the Burns Institutes in Galveston, Texas. An interim unit already is operating in existing facilities there, as they are in Cincinnati and Boston—sites where the other two Burns Institutes will be built. Each of will have various functions—saving children's lives, and instruction of physicians. The Shrine's Imperial Potentate, O. Carlyle Brock, commenting on the need for progress in burns treatment, observed that there have been few major medical advances in the burns area for many years.

"Shriners gladly contribute to this cause so children's lives may be saved and new methods of treatment found. Those children admitted are not required to pay for treatment. This is the same policy as in the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, where worthy children are admitted regardless of race, creed, or color. And more and more money is being received through the wills and bequests of Shriners and non-Shriners."

The Shrine knows there is little hope for any quick, substantial reduction in the number of burned children. But they hope that stressing extra care at Christmas will at least prevent many of the most tragic burns cases—tragic because the pain they cause contrasts so cruelly with the joy of Christmas.

Science Takes Big Part in Season Gifts

Science and the affluent society have been the biggest contributors of ideas for new and exciting toys this year. Notable in the new playthings are the variety of advanced designs of rockets, U-2 planes and luxury model sports racers, all in modestly priced play replicas.

Auto racing abounds with new wrinkles to add to the excitement of this game-room sport. Switch lane action dependent on speeds is a new development. A slot-lock system permits cars to spin and slide. Biggest layout is an 88 piece tri-level set. Among the new elaborations of racing setups is a phonograph record of racing sound effects.

For the boy who has everything there are 11 car garages to house the variety of new foreign sport racers. If Dad has just purchased or is eyeing a new power-mower, select the toy-land counterpart in power mowers.

For dog and horse lovers, there are kennel trucks and horse-vans equipped with vista-dome roof designs, a true luxury in trucking play.

National defense has inspired a wide variety of new play equipment. A new missile launcher truck of heavy gauge steel exactly reproduces U. S. Army models and has a searchlight truck companion piece, also with clear plastic roof.

There are guerilla warfare astronauts' suits and first-aid battle kits. An ingenious new gun designs transforms into a series of seven weapons. The anniversary of World War II has inspired some historical designs and GI Joe is reported to be giving the cowboy a run for popularity honors.

Also new in the science sector of toyland is a breathing man who illustrates the ill effects of smoking. And for would-be doctors there's a new micro-projector for tracing outlines of specimens and an operating stereoscope.

Hope Star Offers $400 in High School Essay Prizes, Plus Extra $100 for the Best Letters to The Editor

For the best high school essays produced in Hempstead and Nevada Counties during the 1964-65 school year Hope Star announces the following cash prizes:

HEMPSTEAD COUNTY — $100 first prize, $50, $25, $15, $10; total for county $200.

NEVADA COUNTY — $100 first, $50, $25, $15, $10; total for county $200.

All essays must be cleared through the high schools and submitted by them to the newspaper. Submissions by individual students direct to the newspaper are forbidden and will be thrown away.

The schools, therefore, will be responsible for identifying the contestants as properly enrolled students and guaranteeing as far as possible that the essays are the students' own work.

The $400 in school prizes for the two counties will be awarded at the end of the 1964-65 school year. Judging will be by the newspaper staff, with whatever outside consultation that may be desirable.

The No. 1 requirement of all essays will be that they are original. Any serious doubt on this score — whether at the high school level or in the final judging — will disqualify the contestant and his paper.

You may choose any subject, and there is no limitation as to length. However, bear in mind what a French classicist wrote in a letter to his daughter: "My dear, if I had more time I would write you more briefly."

In addition to the two county school contests The Star has added an extra $100 in cash for the best letters to The Editor written by the general public in either Hempstead or Nevada Counties.

These letters, of course, should be sent directly to Hope Star. One $10 prize will be awarded each month for the next 10 months.

We hope to make these contests annual events.

It's Just Not Christmas Without Tree

Christmas couldn't be Christmas without a tree. . . but don't forget that brightly-lit trees can be a hazard! Here are some tips from the National Safety Council for holding holiday fire hazards to a minimum:

Choose a tree with springy, rather than dry brittle branches. When you get the tree home, keep it standing in snow or water to retain its freshness until you are ready to take it indoors.

Before setting up your tree, saw off the trunk at least one inch from the original cut, and at an angle. Place tree in a sturdy, water-filled stand away from heat. Be sure the fresh cut is always under water. Remove the tree before its needles begin to drop.

When trimming your tree, use only electric lighting sets bearing the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. label. Check old sets for frayed or bare wires. Always unplug the lights before going to bed or leaving the house. Never have them on unless adults will be near the tree.

Keep all combustible decorations such as paper, tree boughs, or ribbons, away from lights, candles and fireplaces. Do not place electric trains under the tree.

Decorating the house in observance of Christmas was not common until about the 16th century. Then many Europeans put up fir trees in their homes adorned them with roses cut from apples and sweets.

Nothing Is Comparable to Discovery

Tomorrow's great scientist may very well be that youngster who today is continually asking "why" and "wherefore". Or, he may be the inquisitive teen-ager who wants to know about everything from outer-space to under-water exploration.

It's never too early to spark and stimulate the spirit of inquiry in children, and a microscope is one of the best ways to do so. Nothing quite compares to the thrill of discovery as a child learns about the many wonders of this world.

A microscope can serve as a passport to the invisible phenomena round us — in the air we breathe, in plant life, in the soil and in countless everyday objects.

This year you can give your own potential scientist a very special thrill with a professional-type microscope or science set of his own.

For the first time, Bausch and Lomb, leading producer of optical products for science and industry has brought out a new line of microscopes and science sets designed for beginners — for as young as eight years old — as well as for teen-agers.

These microscopes are officially approved by educational consultants and are used in all levels of science education in many school systems.

Such a Christmas gift for the interested youngster can be the start of a rewarding career, or help launch a life-time hobby. A gift of microscope can also provide the basis for many shared family projects.

The young boy will enjoy starting his "experiments" by examining familiar objects around him — a human hair, a piece of wool or an insect.

The older, more experienced student will find the stereo microscope ideal for three-dimensional viewing of biological specimens as well as of rocks, coins, etc.

More advanced students and hobbyists will appreciate the "zoomscope" with its zooming magnification up to 200 X.

The microscopes can be purchased separately, or, in sets with complete equipment and instructions for setting up a home science laboratory. Thus, boys and girls can expand upon school laboratory work or proceed with experiments of their own.

Games Excite Both the Old and Young

Nothing expresses the spirit of "togetherness" more eloquently than a group of children, teen-agers, adults or a happy conglomeration of all of them, huddled happily over an exciting game.

Such games as chess, checkers, dominoes and bingo are games that have proved to be consistently popular and enduring. "Parcheesi," a game that is mentioned frequently in our literature dating back to the Victorian era, actually was first introduced 97 years ago by the firm of Selchow and Righter, who also brought us the immensely popular crossword game, "Scrabble" which swept the nation a number of years ago.

For Christmas 1964, there is a new game to skill, "Tangle," a game which involves pure strategy and skill — not luck.

The game consists of one playing board and 93 hexagon-shaped tiles. Two, three or four can play—from ages eight to eighty.

It's easy to check off many names on your Christmas list with the gift of games. There are games that make it fun to learn — whether it's arithmetic for the primary grader, history as anagrams.

Games based on famous Civil War battles and other historical events. . . map games which make play out of the study of geography. . . games such as "Monopoly" and other business and financial transaction games are but a few of the many different games that offer fun for the younger set, but often entice the older folks into the challenge.

Yule Shopping Complicated More Each Yr.

Christmas shopping is getting more complicated each year and yet more fun. With scores of new products finding their ways into department stores, each one is begging for a spot on your gift list.

With the advent of cordless appliances, many new products have been introduced. Almost anything that requires an outlet or elbow grease can now be found in a cordless form. The cordless boom began in 1960, when Remington brought out the Lectronic shaver, powered by rechargeable nickel-cadmium batteries. Its successor, the improved Lectronic II, makes a perfect holiday present for any man on your gift list.

If Dad's job keeps him on the go, he'll appreciate the Lectronic II which will give him the close, comfortable shave he gets at home — on the train, plane, boat or in a taxi. The same holds true while hunting or fishing. He can shave while away, and recharge the batteries when back at home.

For the service man there's the World-Wide Lectronic II, the world's first cordless electric shaver, which can operate on any three voltage ranges used around the world through its own triple volt transformer. Both the Lectronic II and the World Wide Lectronic II, feature adjustable roller combs which comb the whiskers up and roll the skin down for a close shave without nicks and scrapes on any skin condition.

Other cordless appliances that make handy gifts include: battery-powered flash attachments for cameras, rechargeable hedge trimmers and power drills.

Milady's chores are lightened by a cordless vacuum or a combination floor polisher and scrubber. There's also a magnetic stirrer and an ice crusher.

Even Junior hasn't been left out. Instead of making shoe shining a chore it's a game with a battery powered shoe shine kit. As for sister, to keep her sparkling smile she can use a new electric toothbrush. Dentists agree that oral-hygiene has greatly benefitted with these rechargeable electric servants.

New Games Plentiful This Season

Looking for a new gift game made certain to excite the light-hearted as well as the young-at-heart.

One game helpful in thawing the ice at a party some winter eve is as lively as its name, "Time Bomb." Object of play is to toss the "bomb," an infernal machine complete with clicking timer, and to avoid being caught when it goes boom (but it does not disintegrate.)

Other laugh provoking action games are "Hollow Head," a "Bobbin Noggin." The former resembles a set of horns and appears to prove that the player has a hole in his head as a gyrating marble appears to pass through the tip of one horn to the other. "The Bobbin Noggin" requires fast thinking as well as skill in order to manipulate a hat squarely on a head. Although the hat has magnetic attraction to the head, it is a challenging feat of coordination to rest it squarely on the old "noggin."

In contrast to the fast action line of games is a contingent of educational challengers based on facility with words and ability to marshal up general information. Keyed to the primary grade level is "Educational Pas word" in exercise in words for the fun loving as well as for the young student.

Most challenging to the older 'brains' in the family is "Alumni Fun" where players are questioned about everything from literature to science. If you enjoy family get-togethers, you'll appreciate "Missing Links" comparable to the old-time parlor pastime of reading aloud. Other new parlor games, include "Chit Chat" and "Let's Make A Deal."

Boys will enjoy the rigorous games of skill dealing with military adventures. Whether it's World War I or the War of 1812, the littlest General can be kept busy many a Saturday morning planning a multitude of strategic maneuvers.

"Broadside," a very popular game, is keyed to the naval conflicts of 1812, while "Dogfight", an air-strategy game, relates to 1914.

Every Man Has Pride in His Watch

Every man prizes his watch and there's no doubt a male heart will beat faster this Christmas at the newest designs available at your jewelry store. This year's watches are masterpieces in precision as well as handsome accessories that give him the attractive and more successful look he wants, says the Jewelry Industry Council. There's evidently a style to suit every taste and personality.

While time is precious to all of us, the man of the house is particularly conscious of its importance. A quality, jeweled-lever watch, therefore, is his best assurance for getting anywhere on time. Because he looks at his watch many times a day, an accurate timepiece is a much wanted gift — especially at Christmas when the sentiment of the giver makes the gift that much more meaningful.

The new watches are sleek, thin. They wind themselves, resist wind, water, dusk, shock and magnetic fields; some are even electrically or electronically powered.

Put any of these gifts under the tree for a very merry Christmas for everyone.
